AN INDUSTRIAL BOOM

New $100,000 Corporation to be Organized and Big Addition to Factory Built.

A $100,000 corporation for the manufacture of "Highway" automobile tire protectors and a huge addition to the factory of the Automatic Cradle Manufacturing Co. are two features of an industrial boom that Stevens Point is to experience within the next few months.

John J. Bokolt is the inventor of the self-rocking cradle and the "Highway" tire protector. The cradle factory is at present swamped with orders, and until this condition is relieved little can be done toward the organization of the new concern. However, it is planned to organize and float the stock so that construction work on a big new factory building can be started early in the season.

With the first signs of spring ground will be broken for the new addition to the cradle factory. It will be built on the north side of the present building and will be three stories in height, 82x150 feet in size. It has been the desire of the company to construct future additions to the factory of concrete, but owing to the immediate need of more floor space this plan has necessarily been abandoned in favor of frame construction. An elevator and a large amount of additional machinery will be installed, while a dry kiln and new office building will also be built.

The new company to control the seven patents on the "Highway" tire protector will be entirely separate from that which controls the automatic cradle. Stock will be floated at $100 per share and, according to present plans, a four-story re-enforced concrete building, with 15,000 square feet of floor space, will be put up.

The demand for tire protectors, created last season, when they were first introduced, is so great that the company has abandoned all attempts to turn them out under present conditions. The cradle factory, where the protectors have been manufactured as a side-line, is now being used exclusively for cradles, the phenomenal and unexpected demands for which have upset all other plans.

A crew of 113 hands is now employed in the cradle factory and the output is about 220 cradles per day of 12½ hours. Next Monday two shifts will be put to work. The day crew will be about the same size as at present, while 40 hands will be put on nights. Each crew will work a 10 hour shift.

On Tuesday $2,800 worth of new machinery for the factory, including a sander, shaper and double cylinder cabinet surfer, was ordered.

HERE'S A REAL ONE.

"There aint no such animal." That, in effect, is probably what a good many business men would say if they were told that there is a student in the Stevens Point High school commercial department, not yet a graduate, who went from the classrooms to a down-town office and on the first day took down in shorthand 42 letters and transcribed them on the typewriter without a mistake.

Sounds impossible, doesn't it? However, it was done and the same business man has tried out several other students who are about as proficient. The commercial course at the High school has been "stiffened up" steadily from its inception and is now qualifying young men and young women for future careers of usefulness.

POTATOES AND BLIGHT.

Jos. Prodzinski of Sharon, who attended to business matters in town Tuesday, had a rather peculiar experience with his potato crop last season. He planted several varieties in the same field and all thrived wonderfully well until late in June, when blight struck two of the varieties, hurting them so badly that the yield in the fall was almost a minus quantity. The other species of potatoes were not affected in the least and produced abundantly. Mr. Prodzinski's solution of the problem is that the seed used on the blighted portion had become weak through long usage, the gentleman having planted this stock each season for twenty-five years or more, while the other kinds were comparatively new and therefore better able to withstand the sudden changes in temperature.

SELLS BUENA VISTA FARM.

Bert M. Puariea, agent for the Watkins Remedy Co. in Auplaize county, Ohio, with headquarters at Wapakoneta, visited among friends in this city Monday night and yesterday morning. Mr. Puariea had been spending a couple of weeks at his old home in Buena Vista township, coming here to close the sale of his farm of 160 acres, the homestead which had been a family possession for many years and where Bert was born. The south eighty was purchased by Chas. Bibby and the north half by Vernon Clark. Mr. Puariea received an aggregate price of $11,000. Both portions of the tract are equipped with good buildings, that bought by Mr. Bibby containing a house, barn, granary, etc., while the Clark eighty has on it an immense barn.

Before leaving on his return trip to Ohio next Saturday Mr. Puariea will visit his wife's old home at Wauwatoma. He likes the eastern country as a place of residence and is prospering in a business way.

RECOVERING FROM OPERATION.

Frank B. Thompson, for many years a resident of this city but now a railroad official, with headquarters at Lincoln, Neb., is recovering from a serious surgical operation performed some weeks ago. Frank's numerous Stevens Point friends will be glad to learn that he withstood the ordeal and is again on the road to good health.

"BABY WEEK" PLEDGE.

Now that the nation-wide observance of "Baby Week" approaches, it might be well for grown-ups as well as the little tots to learn the following pledge and begin to carry out the doctrine:

"I pledge to be a baby's friend and everybody tell
Clean air, clean clothing and clean food,
He needs to keep him well."

PLAN BIG MOVEMENT.

Rev. James Blake spent Tuesday at a special meeting of the Wisconsin Baptist convention, called in Milwaukee to consider the advisability of entering into a plan with other denominations of erecting a large building at Madison at a cost of about $500,000 for the purposes of unifying all Protestant forces in one building for the benefit of the university students. A committee of three was chosen and given full power to act with representatives of other denominations.

CLUB'S BUSINESS SESSION.

At the business session of the Woman's club meeting last Saturday afternoon it was decided by unanimous vote to hold the next district convention in this city, the date to be decided later. Formal announcement was also made of the fact that at the executive session of the Federated Clubs recently held in Milwaukee, Mrs. D. J. Leahy of this city was elected as one of the two delegates from Wisconsin who will attend the National bi-annual convention in New York city next May.

ALLEN KROMER DIES.

Quite a few of the older residents of Stevens Point will remember Allen Kromer, who spent his boyhood and young manhood days in Grand Rapids, when he was a frequent visitor to this city. Mr. Kromer died at Havre, Mont., last Friday. He was troubled with Bright's disease but it is believed that the direct cause of death was heart failure. Allen's home was at Helena but he spent most of his time on the road as an eye and ear specialist. His father, Lem Kromer, passed away at Grand Rapids only a few weeks ago.

TO MISSOURI RESORT.

D. E. Frost and John N. Weisby will leave Friday night for Chicago and remain there until Monday night, when they will be joined by Judge B. E. Park, W. E. Ule, Dr. C. von Neupert, Sr., and possibly J. N. Peickert and one or two others. The entire party will proceed from the windy city to Excelsior Springs, Mo., for a stay of ten days. They expect to be joined there by J. H. Brennan, J. V. Foster and R. D. Rod of Bartlesville, Okla., all former residents of Stevens Point.

William Moll of this city, C. E. Blodgett and daughter, Miss Zoa and Henry Noll of Marshfield went to Excelsior Springs the latter part of the week.

MANY HEAR CONCERT.

Kryl and Daughters Give Fine Recital
—New Plan for Entertainment
Course Taken Up.

Bohumir Kryl, world famous concertor, and his daughters, Josephine Kryl, violiniste, and Marie Kryl, pianiste, appeared in recital at the Normal auditorium last evening as the fourth number of the entertainment course. Originally booked for an earlier date, the Kryls were compelled to postpone their appearance on account of the illness of the father, but they convinced their audience that what they had to offer was well worth waiting for. Each one of the trio is an artist of exceptional attainment and with a program entirely classical and very well selected, they received a welcome that was genuinely warm. The big auditorium was well filled and the audience repeatedly encored the musicians, who were generous with responses.

Prior to the concert preliminary steps toward the organization of a general committee to take charge of future local entertainment courses were taken. Prof. M. M. Ames, whose individual efforts have been a strong factor in the success of past courses, explained the plan, saying he believed the best results could be obtained by having a committee of representative citizens work in conjunction with the Normal committee. A motion was passed providing that five members be elected to a committee to investigate and formulate definite plans. As the audience passed out, the ballots were collected and the count shows the following were elected: H. C. Snyder, J. W. Dunegan, Rev. J. A. Stemen, Misses Martha Week and Katharine Wood.

Considerable delay was experienced in starting the concert, owing to trouble with the lighting system.

KNOW MYSTERY GIRL? McCARR GETS BOOST

Alice Miller, Chief Figure in Many Escapades, Attended School in This City.

Alice Miller, known in Appleton as "Mysterious Alice" owing to her offer of $10,000 to Lawrence college, has been holding down headline positions in many of the state papers during the last several days, and Stevens Point people who have read of her escapades will probably be surprised to know that she formerly attended the Stevens Point business college.

Alice's home is in Mayville and she came here between two and three years ago. After completing a course at the local school she went to Park Falls to take a position as commercial teacher in the High school, but she evidently did not remain there long.

Besides her great interest in Lawrence college, Alice's chief claim to notoriety comes from the fact that she had an Antigo lawyer scour Milwaukee in search of a friend of hers whom she said was held in a home as a "white slave." She is now engaged in writing a book, as told in the Milwaukee Free Press a few days ago, as follows:

"Alice Miller has been found—and she is writing a book. Alice is the daughter of John Miller who lives on North Main street in Mayville, Wis., and is a laborer in the plant of the Northwestern Iron company.

"What her book is about she will not tell. Whether it is a recital of her many adventures since she left Mayville three years ago is shrouded in mystery. Whether she will humorously dwell upon the instance of her reported offer of $10,000 to Lawrence college at Appleton, and the great interest in her which was aroused in President Samuel Plantz and Dr. J. D. Vaughan is an author's secret.

"She has been practicing writing stories ever since she was a child. When seen last night in her father's home she refused to answer any questions about the incidents of her life in Milwaukee, Antigo, Ashland or Appleton. She asserted that some one in Milwaukee was using her name and was her double. She denied all knowledge of the offer made to President Plantz and would not admit that she had ever been in Young Woman's Christian association in Milwaukee, or had ever said in Antigo that a friend of hers was held as a white slave in a home in Milwaukee.

"All the things which have been said about her intelligence and attractiveness are true. She is of medium height, has black hair which was neatly arranged, wore a gray sweater jacket over a black cloth waist, had on a kitchen apron, and had just finished washing the dishes.

"Miss Miller has had nine brothers and sisters, all younger than herself. When a Free Press reporter arrived at her home she was teaching lessons to two of her sisters.

"She came to Mayville with her family about fifteen years ago, and her home has been there ever since. For some time she worked as a bookkeeper in the wholesale liquor establishment of Senator Byron Barwig. After she left there, which was about three years ago, she left Mayville and no one except her family knew where she went. Occasionally she visited her home, and at those times it was said that she claimed to have been visiting her grandparents in Cambria and to have been attending school.

"When she arrived home the last time she was not seen on the streets and her presence did not become generally known until last Saturday, when an attorney from Antigo and the sheriff of that town came here and obtained money which they claimed she owed.

"She paid them $94.50, they said, according to Marshal Louis Heartel, who accompanied them to the Miller home.

"Miss Miller refused even to admit that they had been at her home."

FELL FROM LADDER.

John L. Roy, the veteran local cement contractor, had a lucky escape from serious injury last Saturday, when a ladder he was ascending to the roof of his residence at 532 South Fremont street, slipped, throwing him backwards to the ground. Although he was badly shaken up no bones were broken, and except for the pain of strained muscles is as good as ever. Mr. Roy was about to clear the roof of his home of snow and ice when the accident occurred.

IS AN OLD FRIEND.

For several months The Gazette has been publishing amusing and cleverly written stories supplied by the recruiting publicity bureau of the United States Marine Corps in New York city, and it transpires that a local man is personally acquainted with one of the attachees of the bureau. While at Milwaukee a number of years ago, Win Bowersock of this city worked with a young man named Clarence B. Proctor. Proctor later enlisted in the Marine Corps and subsequently saw a good share of the world. Possessed of a fine education and much natural ability, he finally got into the publicity game and is now devoting all of his time to the work. In a letter to Mr. Bowersock, Proctor said: "You must note many peculiar and amusing bits of articles in the Stevens Point Gazette. Watch for notes about the Marine Corps, and some of the peculiar happenings in recruiting offices."

A WASHINGTON PROGRAM.

A Washington program will be carried out at the 7:30 o'clock service of the Presbyterian church next Sunday evening. Besides special music, there will be addresses by Prof. J. V. Collins, Prof. M. M. Ames and A. M. Young, president of the Presbyterian Brotherhood, under the auspices of which the program is to be.

PARISH HOUSE LUNCHEON.

The Parish Guild of the Church of the Intercession will serve a luncheon at the noon hour on Thursday, Feb. 17, at the Parish House. Following is the menu:

Roast Pork with Dressing
Mashed Potatoes Cabbage Salad
White Bread Brown Bread.
Apple Sauce

Doughnuts Tea Coffee
Adults will be served for 25 cents and children 15 cents.

On the same date the ladies will serve a ten cent coffee from 3 to 6 p.m.

A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to be present, as the proceeds will be applied on the Parish House.

WED TOMORROW EVENING.

Miss Margery Warner of McDill to Become Bride of Earl Hager of Whiting.

The marriage of Miss Margery Warner of McDill and Earl Hager of Whiting will take place at the residence of James Blake, pastor of the local Baptist church at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow evening. The young couple will be attended by Miss Ethel Hager, sister of the groom, and Earl Warner, brother of the bride. They will make a wedding trip to Appleton, Milwaukee and Chicago and on their return will be at home at McDill.

Mr. Hager is a machine tender in the employ of the Whiting-Plover Paper Co. and both he and his bride are extensively acquainted in their communities and also in this city. They will receive the hearty congratulations of a large circle of personal friends.

Among the pre-nuptial events given in honor of the bride-to-be was a kitchen shower at the home of Miss Olive Norton at McDill last Saturday evening. Miss Warner received many useful presents and a most enjoyable evening was spent. Games were played and lunch served, after which the guests were taken on a sleigh ride.

NEW HOME ON ELLIS STREET.

F. M. Playman is preparing plans and specifications for a handsome new home to be erected by Clinton W. Copps on Ellis street, just south of and adjoining the E. M. Copps property. It will undoubtedly be of frame construction but the design has not as yet been definitely decided upon, although the bungalow style of architecture is favored. All modern features will be installed and the new residence promises to be a decided ornament to that street. Mr. Playman expects to begin work in the early spring.

DEATH OF M. D. SITZER.

One of County's Oldest Residents Dies at Home in This City After Long Illness.

M. D. Sitzer passed away at 3:30 o'clock this morning at the family home, 300 Fremont street. He had been a sufferer from asthma and heart trouble for four years and his death was not unexpected.

Marquis de Lafayette Sitzer was one of the county's oldest residents, having lived here since 1851. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Sitzer, early residents of Stockton township, and was born in Wausau, December 12, 1849. Mr. Sitzer grew to manhood in Stockton and for years was one of the prominent farmers of that community. He retired in 1908, when the family moved to Stevens Point.

In 1873 Mr. Sitzer was married to Chrestena Foxen of New Hope, who survives him, as do also the following children, all of whom were at his bedside when death came: M. J. and L. C. Sitzer, Cass Lake, Minn.; Mrs. A. Merrill, city; Myrtle, a teacher at Hancock, Wis., and Willmine and Esther, at home. Two other sons, William and Webster, died in 1894 and 1897, respectively. An only brother died in November, 1914.

The funeral arrangements have not been definitely announced, but the services will probably be conducted by Rev. Theodore Ringoen of Trinity Lutheran church at the residence at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. The remains will be laid to rest in Forest cemetery.

A SOCK SOCIAL.

The Ladies' Society of the Baptist church has issued invitations for a "Soc. Social," to be given in the church tomorrow evening, beginning at seven o'clock. Accompanying each invitation is a miniature sock, in which the recipient is to deposit the admission fee in pennies, the total for each being computed by multiplying the size of sock or stocking worn by two. For instance, if No. 10 is the size the admission fee is 20 cents, and so on. The novelty is meeting with favor and many who will be unable to attend have caught the idea and sent their pennies in.

ODD FELLOWS CONVENE

Mid-winter Gathering of Lodge Members of District No. 10 Held Here Tuesday.

W. A. Cutts of Unity was re-elected president of District No. 10 of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows at the mid-winter convention held in this city Tuesday.

The other officers elected are: Vice President—C. W. Simmson, Stevens Point.

Warden—W. G. Arnold, Marshfield. Secretary—Walter Beelus, Withee. Treasurer—Jas. Coulthurst, Plover.

The officers appointed by the president include H. Kauffman of Marshfield, marshal; J. Wagner of Marshfield, conductor; Geo. Cook of Unity, inside guard; A. F. Behrendt of Stevens Point, outside guard; Rev. Braden of Colby, chaplain.

There were two sessions of the convention, afternoon and evening, and both were held in Stumpf lodge hall on the South Side. About 30 outside delegates were present, representing the lodges of Plover, Marshfield, Unity, Withee, Owen and Colby, while about 35 members of the order were there.

The first session began at 2:30 o'clock, when an address of welcome was delivered by C. W. Dittman of this city, the response to which was given by Grand Master Paul Mahoney of La Crosse. The regular order of business was then taken up and following this there was parliamentary practice and a school of instruction, in charge of the Grand Master. At 5:30 a sumptuous supper was served by Stumpf lodge.

At the evening session the election of officers took place and addresses were given by the Grand Master, Past Grand Masters L. E. Colvin and C. S. Sherrin of Marshfield and by J. W. Brown of this city. A luncheon was served at 11 o'clock and from then until 1:30, when the visitors left for their trains, an informal reception was held.

In addition to the three Grand Lodge officers previously mentioned, Past Chief Patriarch J. W. Salter of Unity was among those present.

The convention was a fine success from the standpoint of interest and attendance, while socially it

HAD BIRTHDAY PARTY

Members of Local Branch of Engineers' Auxiliary Celebrate First Anniversary.

Although the birthday cake had but one candle, there was nothing "half way" about the anniversary party given by the members of the local Sub-Division No. 175B of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers at their hall on the South Side last Wednesday evening.

About forty people, including members of the auxiliary and their families, were present, and the following musical program was carried out:

Piano solo—"Smiles and Tears". Miss Ettie Bloye

Vocal solo—"Happy Days" Mrs. M. Watts

Mrs. G. H. Scoville, accompanist

Violin solo—"Humoresque" Leonard Nohr

Vocal solo—"Somewhere a Voice is Calling" Russell Broten

Miss Grace Nohr accompanist

Piano solo—"Silver Star" Miss Gladys Willett

Vocal solo—"Absent" Miss Lenora Broten

Mrs. G. H. Scoville, accompanist

Piano solo—"Simple Confession" Miss Grace Nohr

Vocal solo—"Little Gray Home in the West" Miss Fern Willett

Miss Gladys Willett, accompanist

Song—"Norway" Miss Lenora and Russel Broten

Mrs. G. H. Scoville, accompanist

Following the program cards were played and a social period indulged in, ending with the serving of refreshments. A huge birthday cake, made by the auxiliary president, Mrs. J. H. Holman, was cut by R. H. Broten, who beat several others out of the honor, which was decided by drawing lots. Mr. Broten succeeded in the difficult task of dividing the cake into forty pieces.

The party was perhaps the most successful yet given by the auxiliary and was enjoyed by the following out-of-town people: Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Olson and two children, Chippewa Falls, and Mrs. Lyons and Mrs. Fitzgerald of Marshfield.

The local branch of the auxiliary was formally organized on February 9, 1915, as a sub-division of the Abbotsford branch.

THE FIRST ARREST.

The first arrest under the new city ordinance prohibiting the sawing of wood on public streets was made by Chief of Police John S. Hofsoos last Friday morning, Frank Garsamka, owner of a gasoline machine, being the victim. Garsamka had the machine in operation on South Second street and was taken to municipal court immediately after his arrest. In court he pleaded ignorance of the law and in view of the circumstances he was discharged on payment of the costs, $3.20.

LUMBERMEN TO MEET.

An "efficiency convention" of the Wisconsin Retail Lumber Dealers' association will be held at Milwaukee February 22, 23 and 24. Among the speakers will be Harold F. Weiss, director of the federal forest products laboratory at Madison; R. A. Kellogg of Chicago, secretary of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association; Geo. D. Wolf, Chicago; E. E. Tomison, Chicago, and James G. Drought, Milwaukee. The annual election of officers will take place on the concluding day.

MERRILL ALSO IN LINE.

Stevens Point is not alone in its attempt to secure a municipal water plant, for the common council of the city of Merrill, at a meeting last week, voted to secure the services of two expert engineers to inspect the plant there and to make an estimate as to its value, preparatory to taking up the matter with the railroad commission. An ordinance was also introduced providing for submitting the water question to a vote of the people, and this was ordered published so that it can be voted upon at the next meeting.

Local News.

Emil Seidler transacted business at Milwaukee last Thursday.

Little Miss Anna Bogaczek went to Custer last Thursday for a few days' visit among relatives.

Rev. E. Kolath of Malone, Fond du Lac county, was in the city last week Tuesday and Wednesday, the guest of Rev. M. M. Schmidt.

Mrs. Theresa Bergin, who is assisting in caring for Mrs. Phoebe Wilson at the home of the latter's daughter, Mrs. C. F. Haertel, went to Amherst last Thursday.

Marshall Duranso of Dancy drove down with a load of hay last Thursday and spent several hours in the city on business. Mr. Duranso sold his potatoes early in the season, when he received eighty cents per bushel for them.

Mrs. Frank Cramer and little daughter, Irma, were in the city for a few days last week, guests at the home of Joseph Maurer. On returning to Coloma Thursday morning, they were accompanied by the Misses Marie and Caroline Maurer, who spent the week end there.

Paul Britz of Linwood, Roman Hautzinger, Victor Hoppa, John Landowski, Frank Bemowski, Jr., Joseph Gabryczek and Frank Poplowski, who had been spending a vacation of sixteen days here, returned to St. Paul last Thursday to resume their studies at St. Paul theological seminary.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Jakway went to Lind, Waupaca county, last Thursday morning to attend the funeral of Mrs. Jakway's uncle, Joseph R. Browne, who died at his home there on Monday of last week. Mr. Browne was 80 years of age, a pioneer of Waupaca county and a veteran of the civil war. The funeral was held Thursday afternoon at the M. E. church in Lind.

Miss Margery Warner, whose marriage to Earl Hager is to take place tomorrow, was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Miss Ethel Hager at Whiting on Tuesday evening of last week. Games were played during the evening and a favor was won by Miss Olive Norton. Many gifts were received by the bride-elect and the evening was much enjoyed.

Warren K. Fairbanks and wife returned to Grand Rapids the first of the week after spending several days in the city, guests at the home of his mother, Mrs. F. M. Reinhart, on Strong's avenue. Mr. Fairbanks submitted to an operation at the Fond du Lac hospital early in January and had since been taking life easy. He has entirely recovered and has resumed his work at the Rapids.

IN HONOR LIST.

That the L. S. Walker company of Almond, this county, topped the list of drug stores in Wisconsin towns of less than 1,000 population in the sale of Rexall products, was announced at the annual meeting of the Rexall club of the state, held in Milwaukee last Wednesday. One hundred druggists from all parts of the state attended the meetings, which were held in the Hotel Pfister. A banquet was held in the evening, followed by a theater party at the Majestic theater.

HULL AGAIN PRESIDENT.

Stevens Point Fair Association Officers Elected—J. M. Pfiffner

New Secretary.

The annual meeting of the directors of the Stevens Point Fair Association was held in the council chambers last Wednesday evening, when officers were elected and plans begun for making the 1916 fair the best ever.

The officers follow:

President—I. S. Hull.

Vice President—E. H. Rothman.

Secretary—J. M. Pfiffner.

Treasurer—C. S. Orthman.

Supt. of Speed—W. A. Gething.

These are all re-elections, except in the case of the secretary, Mr. Pfiffner being elected to this position to succeed M. E. Bruce, who declined to serve another year. Mr. Pfiffner has for several years taken an active interest in the work of the association and is in every way well qualified to discharge the duties of the office, which, from the standpoint of work and responsibilities, is the most important in the organization.

In preparation for next year's fair, a number of improvements on the grounds are already being planned. During the last two fairs the poultry department has been one of the biggest features, and the accommodations for the exhibits are far from ample. The small building used for this purpose has been able to take care of only a small part of the entries, most of which were placed in a large circus tent. It is hoped that a new building for this department can be built before next fall. It is also planned to purchase some collapsible coops for the poultry exhibits and at last Wednesday's meeting $100 was appropriated for this purpose. The Stevens Point Poultry club will give a like amount and the cages will be owned jointly. R. K. McDonald was appointed to investigate the proposition.

It was decided to hang up $2,600 in purses for this fall's fair, the same as in 1915, and also to remain in the Central Wisconsin circuit, of which W. A. Gething of this city is secretary. A meeting of the circuit will be held at Marshfield, February 23.

The secretary's salary was set at $150 per annum, the superintendent of speed at $50 and the treasurer at $25.

A. C. Krems, G. L. Park and C. H. Cashin were appointed as a committee to take up the matter of improving the fair grounds with the newly organized park commission and the committee on premium lists was instructed to cooperate with the county agricultural agent about to be appointed.

With the race course rebuilt and other improvements to be made on the grounds this season, the Stevens Point fair has splendid prospects for this year. The association is in good financial condition, despite the handicap of unforseeable weather at every fair in recent years.

PLAN PROSPERITY DAY

Nation Wide Observance of Good Times to Take Place on Tuesday, February 29.

The great mint of time has coined for us an extra day in 1916. On this day—February 29—the United States will become millions of dollars richer on account of this extra 24 hours of time. In view of this fact, it seems appropriate that Tuesday, February 29th, should be known as Prosperity Day.

That idea was conceived by a calendar manufacturing company of Joliet, Ill., and it was so logical and applicable that it has spread like a great wave north and south and east and west, until now nearly every city and hamlet in the nation is planning to observe the day to a greater or less extent.

Business conditions all over the country are on the advance, and everyone knows that 1916 will be the most prosperous year in the history of the nation. The extra day that leap-year brings will result in millions of dollars in extra revenue to the earning population of this country. Since the prosperity of the nation is regulated by the prosperity of the individuals that compose it, and since America is America because her citizens as a whole are prosperous, it is fitting that February 29 should be set aside to celebrate as "Prosperity Day."

The banks of Stevens Point and Portage county will feature opportunities offered the wage earner for opening a new savings account, or adding to an old one, with the money he earns on this extra day. Thus, the idea intended to be conveyed by "Prosperity Day" will be brought home to the individual, and the result will be another step in the great movement to make Americans more thrifty people.

Let's all boost for our individual prosperity and thus for a big successful year in this community. Begin now to pass this idea around among your friends and neighbors. Let's get back of this movement in a body. Talk, think and feel prosperity and we can all make February 29 a day of rejoicing.

INNOVATION AT BANK.

In the larger cities many of the banking institutions remain open for business during the noon hour, as an accommodation for those who are unable to do their business at other times during the day, and the Citizens National bank of this city has decided to adopt this plan. The bank is now open without interruption from 9 o'clock in the morning until 3 in the afternoon, each business day.

MASON'S VISIT CITY.

Crusade Commandery No. 17, Knights Templar, exemplified work in the Red Cross degree at the Masonic temple last Thursday evening. Among the out-of-town men present were the following from Grand Rapids: T. A. Taylor, C. F. Krueger, M. N. Weeks, I. P. Witter, J. P. Horton, Lacy Horton, George LaTour, Amos Hasbrouck, Carl Bandalin, George K. Gibson and G. W. Mead.

COMMERCIAL MEN MEET.

The Wisconsin Commercial and Industrial Congress, which will be held at Madison, February 14 to 18, under the auspices of the University of Wisconsin, is expected to be one of the biggest events of the kind ever held in the middle west. A strong program has been arranged, some of the speakers on which follow: W. H. Reed, president of the Wisconsin Association of Commercial Secretaries, Racine; William George Bruce, president of the American Association of Commercial Executives, Milwaukee; George Hambrecht, member of Wisconsin Industrial Commission, Grand Rapids; J. N. Tittemore, Omro; Joseph E. Davies, chairman of the Federal Tax Commission; Chas. R. Van Hise, president of the University of Wisconsin; Ralph E. Smith, president of the State Conference of Charities and Corrections, Merrill; Allen D. Albert, president of the International Association of Rotary Clubs, Minneapolis; W. A. Von Berg, secretary of the agricultural committee of the Wisconsin Bankers' association, Mosinee; H. A. Moehlenbach, ex-president of the Wisconsin Bankers' association, Clinton. Chief Justice John B. Winslow of the Wisconsin supreme court will be toastmaster at a banquet to be given by the Madison Board of Commerce on Friday evening, February 18.

PREVENTED A CATASTROPHE.

Presence of Mind of Son of Conductor and Mrs. W. I. Bush of This City Saves Train.

How Leslie Bush of Fond du Lac, a son of Conductor and Mrs. W. I. Bush of this city, saved a train from rolling down a ten-foot embankment was told as follows by the Fond du Lac Reporter last Thursday:

"The presence of mind of Leslie Bush of this city, probably saved the St. Paul train from going over a ten-foot embankment when a broken rail ditched it at Gross Corners, near Brandon, Tuesday afternoon.

"Bush was in the first car which left the track, and realizing at once what had happened, opened the air valve and warned the engineer, who until this, was unaware of the accident. When the train came to a stop, the wheels on the left side of the car were over the right hand rail, and the coach was on the edge, over a ten-foot embankment.

"Bush's prompt action was all that turned a serious accident into a minor one. If the wooden coaches had rolled down the bank, many persons probably would have been injured. As it was no one was hurt."

E. C. Glennon of this city was also a passenger on the train.

Service to Customers

It has always been our policy to help customers save money, avoid waste and get complete satisfaction in the purchase of all kinds of building material. When they tell us their plans we tell them how to buy economically and what to use. When their plans are indefinite, we frequently make suggestions that suit the need.

Scarlet Woman Recently Arrested
Here Gets Into Another Mix-up at Waupaca.

presentative citizens one of the men promised that the offense would be his last. We trust that he is man enough to adhere to this promise.

SECOND SKI TOURNAMENT.

After the raid on two disorderly houses on Patch street two weeks ago, two of the young women inmates, one of whom was arrested and brought into county court, where she paid a fine and costs, went to Waupaca. That they didn't remain out of trouble long is evidenced by the following, taken from last Thursday's Waupaca Record-Leader:

Last Sunday evening three of the young men of this city with three scarlet women were arrested for disorderly conduct. They were taken before Police Justice Hoist and having pleaded "guilty" the women were fined $3.00 and costs while the young men were fined $5.00 and costs.

We do not countenance conduct of this sort; it is sordid; it leads away from the better influences of life; it is a hindrance to the moral, social, political and spiritual influence of him who indulges in it; it further excludes the participants from the social circles in which decent people move. It is also an insult to the community life; one of the women who were taken came into this city from Stevens Point following her arrest and conviction on a serious charge in that city; another presumably living under an alias from God knows where, but she was here; the third lives here. The young men were all residents of Waupaca, two of them occupying responsible positions in the business life of the city.

Amherst Advocate: Louis Larson and Verne Harvey spent the first of the week in the Whitefish Bay vicinity where they purchased six head of pure bred Guernsey cattle. Four of the splendid animals were purchased by Mr. Larson and the other two are of which Burton and Verne Harvey are proprietors. The gentlemen believe in keeping high grade stock and their new purchases will be a fine addition to their already excellent herds.

People who use Peruna

Mrs. T. Frech, R. R. 1, Hickory Point, Tenn., writes: "I am happy to tell you that I am cured of catarrh. Having been afflicted with catarrh and stomach trouble for seven years, and after having tried four different doctors, who only relieved me for a little while, I gave up all hope of being cured. I was induced to try Peruna, and to my great surprise I am now entirely well. My health never was better."

FOR INDIGESTION

Mrs. W. R. Whitehead, R. R. 1, Pryor, Oklahoma, writes: "I am happy to tell you that I keep free from my old stomach trouble; feel no catarrhal symptoms at all. I am able to do my work, eat and drink what I want, and rejoice to know that I found a sure cure in your valuable medicine. I think it saved my life. By beginning in time with Peruna I was cured sound and well."

HIT ON CROSSING.

While one of the sleighs being used by Reading & Neumann in hauling ice from the river to the Soo line ice house on the South Side was making the return trip last Thursday morning at about 8 o'clock, it was struck by a switch train at the Water street crossing. The sleigh was swept off the track, but as the train was moving slowly there was little damage and neither the driver nor either of the horses was hurt. The train consisted of three coaches, those used on the run between this city and the paper mills, and they were being pushed west to a sidetrack by a switch engine.

Merchants are advertising mid-winter sales now, but if it hadn't been for that pesky woodchuck approaching spring would have demanded laying in a lighter weight line of clothing.

CAN BALLOT BY MAIL

New Law Permitting Qualified Electors To Vote When Away From Home To Get Test.

Voting by mail, in accordance with the law passed by the Wisconsin legislature in 1915, will be tried out for the first time at the spring election.

According to the statute, any qualified elector of the state of Wisconsin, having duly registered where such registration is required, who through the nature of his business is absent or expects to be absent from the county in which he resides on the day of holding any general, special, primary, county, city, village or town election, may cast his ballot by mail.

The voter wishing to take advantage of this new law must make application to the county, city, village or town clerk not more than fifteen days nor less than three days prior to the election, for an official ballot. He must make this application in person and in so doing shall swear that he is a qualified elector, state his business and when he expects to be absent from the county and agree to return the ballot to the proper authority on or before the day of the election.

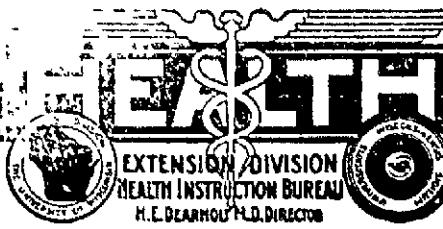

The county, city, village or town clerk shall file the application and not more than ten nor less than three days prior to the election shall mail to the applicant the ballot or ballots, if more than one is to be used, or shall deliver the same by person in not more than ten nor less than one day before the election. The ballot or ballots shall be furnished enclosed in an unsealed envelope bearing on its face the name, official title and post-office address of the clerk issuing same, and on the reverse side a printed affidavit, in which, among other things, the voter must swear that he marked the ballot or ballots in secret. The voter must mark his ballot in the presence of an officer authorized by law to administer oaths, and in such a manner that the officer does not know how it is marked, enclose it in the envelope, seal securely and mail by registered mail, postage prepaid, to the officer issuing the ballot. This officer shall then enclose the same, unopened, together with the application made by the voter, in a larger envelope, which shall be securely sealed and endorsed with the name and official title of the clerk, and be delivered to the inspectors in the election precinct in which the voter is registered. At some time during the voting period the inspectors shall open the envelope and, after deciding upon the legality of the ballot, deposit same in the ballot box, without being unfolded. It shall be endorsed in the usual manner by the election officials and the voter's name entered in the poll book.

The new law was designed particularly to benefit traveling men and railroad employees.

BEWARE THE WOLF.

If your child has a running nose, it is time to get suspicious. If your child's playmate has one, keep your child away from him. Measles, the wolf in sheep's clothing, is abroad in the state and he seems to be exceedingly ravenous. Milwaukee has nearly 600 cases at the present time. During the latter part of December an epidemic of measles in La Crosse doubled that city's annual record for contagious disease, raising the figures covering cases of all contagious diseases for over 11 months from 78 to 157. Similar epidemics prevail in many other sections of the state.

Constant vigilance is necessary if you are to safeguard your child from the disease which in its complications and consequences is one of the most fatal diseases of childhood. Measles, like the poor, we have with us always at all seasons of the year although most prevalent during the colder months. It is the most difficult of all epidemics to control because of the fact that the most infectious period is before the appearance of the rash.

That is why the running nose is just cause for suspicion. It is the first danger signal and one that should not be disregarded at any time but especially when there is a known epidemic. The period from exposure until the appearance of the rash varies from 7 to 18 days, the rule being 14. The first symptoms are chilliness, running of the nose, redness of eyes and lids, sensitiveness of the eyes to the light, sneezing, and a dry cough. The rash generally appears first on cheeks and forehead, the small pimpls rapidly extending into blotches which spread over the neck, chest and the entire body. After two or three days the rash begins to fade and the patient begins to peel, the scales becoming so fine that they are often scarcely noticeable. The catarrhal symptoms disappear and the dangerous convalescent period sets in.

During convalescence, the patient is especially susceptible to tuberculosis, which is a consequence of the disease most to be feared. Bronchopneumonia, immediately following an attack of the measles, is also responsible for many deaths. Chronic kidney disease, bronchitis, inflammation of the eyes, deafness, and mastoid diseases are among other after effects which make the measles so deadly.

Don't expose your child needlessly. Don't let your child expose other children. In case he gets the disease, keep him warm in bed and give him good nursing care in well ventilated room. Don't think the danger is over when the rash begins to disappear. Convalescence is a critical time and the results of neglect are not always immediately manifest. They appear in later life.

A WOMAN'S VIEWPOINT.

In the March Woman's Home Companion is an article by Agnes Repplier on preparedness in which she says:

"The cartoon of Uncle Sam opening his tattered umbrella, with the remark, 'Here's hoping it doesn't rain!' expresses the attitude of men and women to whom history has taught nothing. Why should we deem ourselves safe? The ocean offers no protection in this century than did the Mediterranean five hundred years ago. A large civilian population offers no more protection now than it did when Theodoric overran Italy. We cannot say that we are in nobody's way, for we are distinctly in the way of the coveted South American trade. We cannot say that we are not worth invading. When Field-Marshal Blucher gazed upon the splendor of London, he said with the robust simplicity of his race, 'What a town to loot!' The splendor of New York, lying defenceless on her beautiful harbor, is enough to make old Blucher turn regretfully in his grave. Our treasury is bursting with the Allies' gold. Our wealth, like the wealth of Carthage, is an affront to the world. Our neutrality has won for us neither friendship nor respect. It has not protected us from repeated affronts. It has not saved our citizens—men, women and children—from destruction. The sinking of the 'Lusitania,' the 'Arabic,' the 'Hesperian' and the 'Ancona' were tributes paid to our limitless forbearance. Whatever may be our capacity for self-deception, we can hardly base our hopes for the future upon the tenderness shown us in the past."

MOST LEARNED BOY.

In the March American Magazine is an account of Raymond Ray, of Los Angeles, California, the ten year old marvel who at his present pace will have his Ph. D. at the age of sixteen, outstripping in actual learning the German wonder of the last century, Karl Witte. While his contemporaries are locating in the Atlantic ocean he is engrossed in advanced Spanish and chemistry.

"As soon as Raymond began to take notice of the world about him, his mother taught him to distinguish colors, the most striking ones like white, black, red and blue being taken first. She always talked to him as she would to an adult, scorning "baby talk," as degrading to his intelligence. Pictures were used a great deal. Before he was ten months old he learned to call the presidents of the United States by their right names. His progress in reading was just as remarkable. At the age of a year and a half he knew his alphabet, at three he could read and write, and at five he read 'Hiawatha' in public.

"The boy is well developed physically; strong, athletic and keenly alive to his finger tips. He has a natural talent for music and dramatic art and has repeatedly appeared in public. His mother claims that he is not a prodigy and that any normal boy could accomplish as much with proper training.

HULL BOOSTS PRESS

Ex-Assemblyman From Black River Falls Tells Hardware Dealers

Some Pertinent Facts.

Ex-Assemblyman Merlin Hull of Black River Falls was one of the speakers at the twentieth annual convention of the Wisconsin Retail Hardware Dealers Association, recently held at Milwaukee. "Community Development" was the subject of his address, and this is what he had to say about newspapers and newspaper advertising:

"Then there's that poor, down-trodden, overworked philanthropist up at the end of the street. The man who works early and late, pouring his life-blood into a long-drawn-out appeal for better things. The man who scatters his own liberal spirit weekly and lives on faith and hope—particularly the latter. I mean the editor of your newspaper. You know him. Possibly you called there last week, taking him in a little free reading notice to the effect that you had received a carload of some kind of goods which you thought would be of interest to his readers. Possibly you wrote that notice on a letter head printed down at a jobbing house at Chicago. It always cheers an editor so to have a business man bring in a reading notice on a letter head printed in some other town."

"It is easy for you to make use of that editor in your boosting program. Surprise him occasionally by going and handing him a half-page ad, without first trying to beat him down to a price below the cost of composition. Tell him that you recognize that the press is the advertising medium, not only for the business men, but for the community itself, and that as such you want it to stand as the representative of a live town."

"Advertising is one of the greatest developing factors. Try to develop anything without some form of advertising and you will find that it is like trying to pull yourself up by the bootstraps. If your newspaper is not the kind you want it to be, or what you think it ought to be, you can make it that kind of a paper by making it your medium for reaching the people."

"If it is without the news which should be in its columns, give the editor the items which you have, and hide, every week, and don't say anything about until the paper is out. Tell him about the building contracts you have, and keep him posted upon the various forms of improvements upon which you have advance information. Recognize the fact that the paper is there to serve you and the community. When you want to agitate in favor of introducing more alfalfa, more and better stock, larger and better barns, greater poultry production, and many other things which help develop resources, you will find him ready to join hands with you."

MILWAUKEE MISREPRESENTED.

There is no single thing more vital to Milwaukee today than that we ourselves should realize and others should realize that The Free Press of this city and those who have been talking its kind of talk about America and Americans and the American government do not represent the sentiment of Milwaukee. These persons who have been trying to capitalize racial feeling have continually set themselves up as representing Milwaukee. But we have evidence mounts high that they do not. The visit of President Wilson and the reception given him are alone enough to show this.

There are many people outside of Milwaukee who believe that this campaign of abuse of America voices the real feeling of Milwaukee. It is the duty of every citizen to correct this misunderstanding, which has already had serious effects. It is particularly the duty of business men to make it clear to the business world beyond this city, to those who have refused to buy here or to have dealings with Milwaukee concerns because they thought these speakers for self uttered the voice of Milwaukee. For itself, The Journal does not believe, and unless conviction is forced on it, will not believe that the kind of thing The Free Press has done represents even the stockholders of that paper.

There are many thousands of people in Milwaukee who are strongly pro-German, and many of them who are passionately so. And that is their right. But to wish the allies to win is a different thing from hating America and attacking its government and its people. There are many thousands of people in Milwaukee who are strongly pro-German, and many of them who are passionately so. And that is their right.

But to wish Germany to win is a different thing from hating America and attacking the government and the people of America. There ought to be a law to reach this kind of a thing. If it shall prove that there is not, it is all the more the duty of Milwaukee to make its real sentiment clear, to itself, to the rest of the nation and to the world.—Milwaukee Journal.

SYNOPSIS

Evelina, at the request of her rich friend Jane, attempts to demonstrate that it is possible and advisable for a woman to woo and win a mate just as a man does.

Evelina returns to her old home, where she meets her fifth cousin, James Hardin, whom she calls the "Crag," and insists on living alone.

James watches outside her window all night. Evelina feels a revival of her former interest in Polk Hayes.

Also, her fondness for James grows, but she concludes that marrying him is out of the question.

Uncle Peter tells Evelina that Sally Cartwright will marry James and that James is likely to lose his fortune in a railroad scheme.

Evelina starts to tell Polk she loves him, but is interrupted. James' efforts to secure the new railroad line are not appreciated except by Evelina.

CHAPTER VII.

"I don't understand him at all."

OUR cultivated artistic nature ought to be a very beautiful revelation to the spiritual character of the young Methodist divine you wrote me of in your last letter. Encourage him in every way with affectionate interest in his work, especially in the Epworth league on his country circuit. I am inclosing $50 subscription to the work, and I hope you will give as much. You have not mentioned Mr. Hayes for several letters. I fear you are prejudiced against him. Seek to know and weigh his character before you judge him as unfit for your love." Thus Jane wrote.

The highly spiritual Mr. Haley glared at Polk for an hour out here on my porch when he interrupted us in one of our Epworth league talks in such an unspiritual manner that Polk said he felt as if he had been introduced to the Apostle Paul while he was still Saul of Tarsus. I had to pet the dominie decently for a week before he regained his benign manner. Of course, however, it was trying to even a highly spiritual nature like his to have Polk insist on pinning a rose in my hair right before his eyes.

About Polk I feel that I am in the midst of one of those great calm, oily stretches of ocean that a ship is rocked gently in for a few hours before the storm tosses it first to heaven and then to hell. He is so psychic, and in a way attuned to me, that he partly understands my purpose in declaring my love for him to put him at a disadvantage in his lovemaking to me, and he hasn't let me do it yet, while his tacit suit goes on. It is a drawn battle between us and is going to be fought to the death. In the meantime "Come take a walk with us, Evelina, dear," Caroline begged softly, though I knew what it would mean to her if I should intrude on this precious hour with her near lover.

Please, God, if I seem to be calling you into a profane situation I can't help it. I must have help! Show me some way to assist Caroline to make Lee into a real man and then get him for herself. She must have him, and he needs her. And show me a way quick! Amen!

Jane, I hope you will be able to pick the data out of this jumble, but I doubt it. Anyway, I'm grateful for the lock and key on this book.

As I stood at the gate and watched Lee and Caroline saunter down the moon flecked street a mockingbird in the tallest of the oak twins that are my roof shelter called woefully from one of the top boughs and got his answer from about the same place on the same limb.

If a woman starts out to be a training nurse to an epidemic of love making she is in great danger of doing something foolish her own self. I am even glad it is a prayer meeting night for Mr. Haley. He is safe in performing his rituals. He might misunderstand this mood.

"Nell," I said with trepidation as I began on this, my first disciple, "you aren't a bit ashamed or embarrassed or humiliated in showing me that you love me, are you?"

"You know I've adored you ever since I could toddle at your heels, Evelina," she answered, and the love message her great brown eyes flashed into mine was as sweet as anything that ever happened to me.

"Then why should you wonder and suffer and restrain and be humiliated at your love for Polk?" I asked, firing point blank at all of Nell's traditions.

"Why not tell him about it and ask him if he loves you?"

The shot landed with such force that Nell gasped, but answered as straight out from the shoulder as I had aimed.

"I would rather die than have Polk Hayes know how he—he affects me," she answered, with her head held high.

"Then what you feel for him is not worthy love, but something entirely unworthy," I answered loftily, with a very poor imitation of Jane's impressiveness of speech.

"I know it," she faltered into my shoulder. "If it were Mr. James Hardin I loved I wouldn't mind anybody's knowing it, but something must be wrong with Polk or me or the way I know or guy Paris. I never see him that I don't long for a box of pastels or get the ghost of the odor of oil paint in my nose.

"The whole thing will be settled in a month," he continued, with a sigh that had a hint of depression in it, and an astral shape of Sallie manifested itself hanging on his shoulder. However, I controlled myself and listened to him. "There is to be a meeting of the directors of both roads over in Bolivar in a few weeks, and they are to come to some understanding. The line across the river is unquestionably the cheapest and best grade, and there is no chance of getting them to run along our bluff unless we can show them some advantage in doing so, and I can't see what that will be."

"What makes it of advantage for a railroad to run through any given point in a rural community like this, Cousin James?" I asked, with a glow of intellect mounting to my head, the like of which I hadn't felt since I delivered my junior thesis in political Judge; will you do me the pleasure to accept it?" "O yes," replied the now beaming magistrate, "thank ye—thank ye kindly." "Judge," continued the clever pleader, "I don't owe that fellow anything—I really have overpaid him." "The rascal," ejaculated His Honor, "I reverse my judgment, and he shall pay de costs."

JUSTICE IN EARLY WISCONSIN

Early judicial procedure in Wisconsin was never unnecessarily rigid or formal. This is well illustrated by a story told of Judge Reaume, who at the beginning of the last century served Green Bay as justice of the peace. Two residents of the old fur trade post fell into a dispute over the payment of a debt. One of them brought suit before the fat, bald-headed, good natured French judge. The defendant was forthwith summoned to appear before the bar of justice. Knowing the little peculiarities of His Honor, he stopped at a store on his way and purchased a cheap coffee-pot. Approaching the temple of the law he found the judge at the door, who with much emphasis, though in broken English, exclaimed, "You may go away—go away; I have given judgment against ye."

The defendant was unperturbed. "Coming along by Burgan's store," he said, "I saw this small coffee pot hanging out, and I bought it to present to you, Judge; will you do me the pleasure to accept it?" "O yes," replied the now beaming magistrate, "thank ye—thank ye kindly."

"Judge," continued the clever pleader, "I don't owe that fellow anything—I really have overpaid him." "The rascal," ejaculated His Honor, "I reverse my judgment, and he shall pay de costs."

Do You Find Fault With Everybody?

An irritable, fault-finding disposition is often due to a disordered stomach. A man with good digestion is nearly always good natured. A great many have been permanently benefited by Chamberlain's Tablets after years of suffering. These tablets strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. Obtainable everywhere.

From all accounts the close-range view the middle west had of the president didn't lose him any votes.

"What did Dodson have to say—is he coming across?"

economy with Jane looking on, comsumed with pride.

"Towns that have good stock or grain districts around them with good roads for hauling do what is called 'feeding a railroad,'" he answered. "Bolivar can feed both roads with the whole of the Harpeth valley on that side of the river. They'll get the roads, I'm thinking. Poor old Glendale!"

"Isn't there anything to feed the monsters this side of the river?" I demanded, indignant at the barrenness of the south side of the valley of old Harpeth.

"Very little unless it's the scenery along the bluff," he replied, with the depression sounding still more clearly in his voice, and his shoulders drooped against the unsympathetic old stone post in a way that sent a pang to my heart.

"Jamie, is all you've got tied up in the venture?" I asked softly, using the name that as very small I had given him in a long ago when the world was young and not full of problems.

"That's not the worst, Evelina," he answered in a voice that was positively haggard. "But what belongs to the rest of the family is all in the same leaky craft. Carruthers put Sallie's in himself, but I invested the mites belonging to the others. Of course, as far as the old folks are concerned, I can more than take care of them, and if anything happens there's enough life insurance and to spare for them. I don't feel exactly responsible for Sallie's situation, but I do feel the responsibility of their helplessness.

Sallie is not fitted to cope with the world, and she ought to be well provided for. I feel that more and more every day. Her helplessness is very beautiful and tender, but in a way tragic, don't you think?"

I wish I had dared tell him for the second time that day what I did think on the subject, but I denied myself requested to do so by the Marine Corps authorities.

"I am not advertising any particular brand of heroism and I might be mistaken for a movie actor if my picture got into circulation," Daly is said to have told his superior officer.

Gunner Sergeant Daly is considered one of the bravest men in the United States Marine Corps. He holds a letter of commendation from the Secretary of the Navy for courage and good judgment in extinguishing a fire on the Scooner Springfield, in March, 1911, in addition to the two medals of honor.

He is forty-two years of age, has served four enlistments in the Marine Corps, and barely meets the physical requirements, weighing only 130 pounds for his 65% inches in height.

God never made anything more wonderful than a good man—even a stupid one. Lights out!

How To Cure Colds.

Avoid exposure and drafts. Eat right. Take Dr. King's New Discovery. It is prepared from Pine Tar, healing balsams and mild laxatives. Dr. King's New Discovery sooths and expels the cold germs, relieves the irritated throat and allays inflammation. Search as you will, you cannot find a better cough and cold remedy. Its use over 45 years is a guarantee of satisfaction.

HAVE YOU BEEN SICK?

Then you realize the utter weakness that robs ambition, destroys appetite, and makes work a burden.

To restore that strength and stamina that is so essential, nothing has ever equaled or compared with Scott's Emulsion, because its strength-sustaining nourishment invigorates the blood to distribute energy throughout the body while its tonic value sharpens the appetite and restores health in a natural, permanent way.

If you are run down, tired, nervous, overworked or lack strength, get Scott's Emulsion to-day. It is free from alcohol.

Scott & Bowe, Bloomfield, N. J.

The Milwaukee Free Press squirmed out of an embarrassing position—or attempted to—by saying that the cordial welcome the Cream city gave the president on the occasion of his recent visit there was merely a tribute to his exalted position, and that notwithstanding the outward friendliness toward the chief executive Milwaukee will vote 4 to 1 against him should he be a candidate next fall. In view of the Free Press's un-American and unneutral attitude during the past year or more, most people will take the prediction with the proverbial "grain of salt."

Has Used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for 20 Years.

"Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used in my household for the past twenty years. I began giving it to my children when they were small. As a quick relief from croup, whooping cough and ordinary colds, it has no equal. Being free from opium and other harmful drugs, I never felt afraid to give it to the children. I have recommended it to a large number of friends and neighbors, who have used it and speak highly of it," writes Mrs. Mary Minke, Shortsville, N. Y. Obtainable everywhere.

The value of Portage county land went up 30 percent during the past five years, according to the state tax commission. After all, sand is a pretty good investment.

Constipation.

When constive or troubled with constipation take Chamberlain's Tablets. They are easy to take and most agreeable in effect. Obtainable everywhere.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which in nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces

The GazetteCHOOSE COUNTY AGENT

Mondovi Man is Choice of Committee for Important New Agricultural Position.

J. M. Coyner of Mondovi has been practically appointed to the newly created position of agricultural agent for Portage county.

Mr. Coyner has been agreed upon by the county agricultural committee composed of J. W. Dunegan of this city, chairman, E. P. Tobie of Amherst and P. E. Webster of Almond, as the man for the place and he has been strongly endorsed by the college of agriculture. It is expected that the appointment will be formally made to take effect March 1.

Mr. Coyner was selected from a field of six applicants. He is mature in years, was born and raised on a farm and is interested jointly with his brother in the operation of a farm. He is now in charge of the agricultural department of the Mondovi High school, which involves considerable field work. According to an official of the University of Wisconsin college of agriculture he is regarded as one of the best, if not the best, High school teachers of agricultural subjects in the state. Having graduated from the college of agriculture he is thoroughly familiar with scientific farming and his practical experience further qualifies him for the responsible position he is to assume.

PHILIPP SURE COMING

Governor of State Finally Makes definite Promise to Business Men's President.

"I will be glad to be with you on March 3. I will leave either Madison or Milwaukee in time to reach your city in the evening."

So said Governor E. L. Philipp in a letter received by C. S. Orthman, president of the Stevens Point Business Men's association, on Tuesday, and accordingly plans are being made to give Mr. Philipp a reception befitting the chief executive of the great state of Wisconsin. A banquet will be held under the auspices of the Business Men's association in the evening, probably in the Parish House. The menu, it is expected, will be furnished by the Parish Guild of the Church of the Intercession.

Governor Philipp's promise to be here came in response to invitations extended by Mr. Orthman.

COUNTY COMMITTEE OFFICERS

The various ward and precinct committeemen forming the Democratic county committee held a special meeting last week, the main object being to choose a successor to John Een, the chairman, who resigned because of his recent appointment as postmaster at Amherst. J. R. Pfiffer was voted a member of the committee to represent the First ward after which the following officers were selected:

Chairman—John W. Brown.
Secretary—J. R. Pfiffer.
Treasurer—J. W. Ash.

FUNERAL HELD SATURDAY.

Remains of Earl Sward, Who Died Last Wednesday, Laid to Rest in Forest Cemetery.

Funeral services for Earl Sward, who died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Sward, 603 Prairie street, at 3:20 o'clock last Wednesday afternoon, were conducted by Rev. James Blake of the Baptist church at the residence at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Six boy friends bore the remains to their final resting place in Forest cemetery, Walter Miller, Ed. Samsow, Henry Kanielski, Roland Fulton, Alex Hurrish and Harry Fitzmorris.

Earl Edward Sward was born at Whiting, in Plover township, July 10, 1897, but all his life, except for a few months, was spent in Stevens Point. He was a student in the local public schools until about three years ago, since which time he has been employed at various occupations. His death resulted from an attack of grippe, he having suffered three relapses. Up to the Sunday before he passed away strong hopes for his recovery were entertained.

His parents have three children left to comfort them in their sorrow, Kenneth, Herman and Otilia, all younger than Edward.

GIRLS ARE LINING UP

Basketball Teams of Normal School Departments Are Being Selected.

For the past two months girls representing each department in the Normal have been out for basketball practice. The primary department has had twenty-four girls out; high school, ten; rural, twenty-eight; grammar, twenty; academic, fifteen; domestic science, thirteen.

From these numbers, teams have now been chosen. In most cases ten have been kept on a team. A day or two prior to the tournament, which will be held early in March, first teams will be chosen from the ten, and the remaining girls will act as substitutes.

The girls chosen for each team are as follows:

Primary—Lillian Stewart, Frances Lipke, Alice Brady, Mona Hennessy, Ida Rothman, Florence Bourn, Grace Hanson, Marie Gotchy, Janet Schleicher, Violette Ruby and Hattie Weltman.

Domestic Science—Elizabeth Burns, Grace Taylor, Hazel Wickern, Kath. L. Lambert, Lena Driver, Geneva Cartmill, Alma Jung, Mary Ingalls, Vera Tewksbury and Nettie Thompson.

Grammar—Elvina Foxen, Mary Miller, Mary Drolinger, Elsie Carlson, Marion Parrette, Mabel Clement, Mae Belle Heisig and Grace Nohr.

FUTURE FOR IRISH CULTURE

Yeats, Eminent Playwright, Has Great Confidence in the Developments of the Future.

Thomas Beecham, who took the chair when an address on "The Irish Theater" was delivered by W. B. Yeats at Sunderland house, according to the London Times, said the Irish theater was the most remarkable dramatic theatrical phenomenon this country had seen for more than 200 years. "One phenomenon in the theater of our day is the great revival of romantic drama in Europe. We see an effort to establish what was known as English opera, and if that is successful it will do probably more to re-establish the legitimate literary romantic drama than anything else," he declared.

Mr. Yeats said the question was often asked, "What is a bad play?" His reply was that it was a play which depended for its success upon some temporary interest. The majority of plays in London were of that character and would pass away because they appealed to a temporary interest. It had been said that Ireland did not read much; but in Ireland they would find a tradition of spoken culture and unwritten literature, and the Irish theater movement begun 15 years ago would not have been started had there not been confidence in that culture. Ireland was, of all countries, the least sentimental and one of the most passionate. He did not say that victory would come in their lifetime, or for two or three generations, but there would come a real national culture out of Ireland.

COTTON STALKS HAVE VALUE

Hitherto Regarded as Waste, They Are to Be Turned Into a Marketable Commodity.

Considering the fact that in the neighborhood of 75,000,000 tons of cotton stalks have been destroyed annually as worthless and only in the way, the possibilities of a plant capable of converting them into paper and artificial silk are readily comprehended.

A plant is now being erected at Greenwood, Miss., which will be devoted to the preparation of pulp from cotton stalks, and it is said that owing to the stronger fibers of the cotton stalk pulp, paper manufactured from it is considerably stronger in proportion to its thickness and weight than that produced from the usual wood pulp. It has been the custom to cut and burn the stalks, after the cotton-picking season has ended, at a cost of about a dollar a ton. The use of cotton pulp is not limited to the making of paper. The stalk fibers have been found capable of withstanding the nitration process involved in the making of gun-cotton. The fibers also produce an artificial silk, motion-picture films, and such chemicals as pyroxilene, alcohol and acetone.

Wife Filches His Robe.
"Dawgone, I want my robe back!" wailed Allan Shelden, resident of Grosse Pointe Shores, in police headquarters, according to the Detroit Free Press.

"That was a fox fur robe worth $2,000," continued Shelden. "I left it for a few minutes in my automobile in front of the county building, and now it's gone. Get busy! Get some detectives and find it before my wife knows it's gone or—good night!"

Sympathetic clerks took down a description of the valuable robe, and soon two detectives were on the trail.

Shelden still stood by the desk, urging haste. A woman had entered, carrying in her arms a robe.

"I am Mrs. Shelden," said the woman, smiling at the office force. "You see, I took the robe to give my husband a lesson. He's so careless about leaving it in the machine."

Shelden mopped his brow.

Medical Lectures for Women.
A working knowledge of medicine "first aid" and personal hygiene is offered to women by the Woman's Medical college, Philadelphia, which has outlined a series of lectures for women outside the hospital. Dr. Clara Marshall, dean of the college, has charge of the lectures.

Believing every woman should know how to render "first aid," twelve talks, covering care of burns, fractures and simple surgery, have been arranged.

A practical demonstration of various bandages and dressing, with opportunity to practice, will be given in ten lectures, under the direction of Dr. Harriet L. Hartley, clinical professor of surgery. Dr. Mary P. Rupert will lecture on such conditions as heat prostrations, drowning and poisoning.

Rang Fire Alarm for Baby.
The fire department of New York has been called upon to respond to most all sorts of calls, but one recently is considered the limit.

Fire headquarters received a "still alarm" over the telephone from Quincy court, in the north end, and when Ladder 1 from Friend street and Acting Chief Hines arrived they found a baby had convulsions from the whooping cough and the excited mother had summoned help from the fire department.

Developing English Industry.

Glass-making research is a new feature at Sheffield university. The war cut off many kinds of glass products from England, but the investigations have been so effective that 8,000 Yorkshire glassworkers, formerly turning out only cheap glass bottles, are reported to be now making a varied lot of materials in fine glass.

ANDREW J. BOOTH DEAD.

Civil War Veteran and Old Resident of Stevens Point Dies at Age of Eighty-nine.

The death of Andrew J. Booth, civil war veteran and since 1878 a resident of Stevens Point, occurred at the Bruce Hotel, where he had been making his home, at 8 o'clock Monday morning. Mr. Booth had been confined to his bed for three weeks, but he had been growing steadily feeble for months. His death was due to infirmities of old age.

The deceased was a native of Steuben county, N. Y., and was born March 25, 1827. In 1851 he was married to Miss Sarah White in New York city and they at once came west, settling at Valparaiso, Ind. During the war between the north and south he saw service with Co. B, 151st regiment, Indiana volunteer infantry. At the close of the war he returned to Indiana and continued to reside at Valparaiso until 1878, when the family removed to this city. Here Mr. Booth was engaged in the retail wood business for a period of years and later at one time was employed as inspector by the Standard Oil Co.

Surviving are ten children: Mrs. Addie Skinner, Canton, Wis.; Arthur Booth, East Chicago, Ind.; Mrs. Laura Curtiss, Enid, Okla.; Andrew Booth, Great Falls, Mont.; William Booth, Taylor Crossing, Wis.; Mrs. Nettie Blodgett and George Booth, Marshfield; Mrs. Fannie Ringness, Peoria, Ill.; and Mrs. J. D. Giles and Mrs. Zella Rothman, city. His wife died five years ago, and a daughter, Mrs. Florence Moll, in 1903. A brother, Timothy Booth, is a resident of Lady Smith.

The funeral was held from the residence of Mrs. Rothman, 940 Main street, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, Rev. John A. Stemen of the Presbyterian church officiating. Burial was in Forest cemetery. The pallbearers were H. C. Welty, Fred Copps, J. J. Normington, C. E. Wert, Win Rothman and Alex Ringness. Those from outside the city who attended are Arthur Booth, East Chicago, Ind.; William Booth, Taylor Crossing, Wis.; Mrs. Henry Ringness, Peoria, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. George Booth, Mrs. C. E. Blodgett and Jerry, Guy and Lucille Blodgett, Marshfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Mort Skinner and Mrs. Fayette Skinner, Jr., Plover.

LADY GETS DIVORCE.

Judge Byron B. Park rendered a decision on Tuesday in the action brought by Ella G. Maine against William G. Maine, and which was tried at the recent term of circuit court. The plaintiff was granted an absolute divorce because of alleged cruel and inhuman treatment and also given one-third of the property, the net value of which is placed at $6,612. Mrs. Maine's share is therefore $2,041. Each of the parties must pay his or her own attorney's fees and the defendant is also required to pay the clerk's fees.

LIBRARY DAY AT CLUB

Annual Event Proves Artistic and Financial Success—Rainbow Girls Furnish Music.

The room of the Woman's Club seemed a little more festive than usual last Saturday afternoon with its daintily laid tables, and atmosphere of color, from the shaded candle lights. This was in honor of its annual program, given for the benefit of our public library.

Miss Katharine A. Rood, in charge of the day, opened the program by introducing the Rainbow Library Club. This is an organization of the younger people, and the only one, outside of the Woman's Club, which brings concerted action and interest to our public library.

The following five of their members furnished the musical numbers for the afternoon, all of which met with warm applause:

The Misses Virginia Carley, president for 1916, Ethel Blake, Dorothy Kingsbury, Elizabeth and Helen Battin.

In behalf of the library board the chairman gave some interesting facts regarding the library, and accepted most graciously the offerings of the Club, which netted $24.75, together with twelve volumes.

The financial success of the afternoon, was due to the library day committee, with Mrs. E. B. Robertson as chairman, Mesdames Battin, Brinker, Ewald, E. D. Glennon, L. M. Maloney, Snyder and E. W. Setters.

The Lincoln division of the program was varied, consisting of a short review of the Lincoln exhibit now on in the marble memorial hall of the Chicago public library, given with some illustrations by Miss Rood.

A pleasing explanation was made by Mrs. Maloney of Lincoln souvenirs, kindly executed by herself and placed on the tables.

The feature of this part of the hour was the reading of "The Toy Shop," from Margarita S. Gerry, which portrays the great man's understanding of the times, through a battle array he arranges with his son "Tad's" tin toy soldiers, which he is purchasing in a little French shop. It was delightfully done by Mrs. Stemen and can never be forgotten.

The promised message to the young women was revealed through the same charming interpreter, Mrs. Stemen. It was a short classic, from the pen of Chas. Dudley Warner, which is too little known, "Shall Women Propose?" Following this, a charge from the chairman to the young women "To break peace with their old contentment," and a distribution of brief lyrics in the form of valentines, was offered, as a matter of encouragement, and recommended for use any chosen time during 1916, in the place of the old, familiar, stereotyped letter.

The afternoon closed in a happy social hour, presided over by the hostess, Mrs. W. S. Powell, assisted by the Misses Chubb, Leigh, Webb, Rodger, Wright and Moll.

The chairman of the day extends warmest appreciation to all who so willingly assisted in many ways to make this annual program a success.

BANK AS THE TWIG IS BENT, SO THE TREE'S INCLINED START AN ACCOUNT FOR YOUR BOY TODAY

It is well to start the savings habit early in life.

It is not enough to merely start an account for the boy or girl, but far better to bring the children in the bank and let them make the start themselves. Teach them to save by sending them to the bank with their savings regularly. The to add to the future welfare of your boy or girl than you can possibly supply by any other simple habit.

Start now with the Wisconsin State Bank of Stevens Point, Wisconsin, which is a growing institution, and watch the Savings Account grow with its accumulation of deposits and interests.

GET GERMAN SECRETS

Rear Admiral Grant Tells House Committee Things About Undersea Fighting Craft.

An International News Service dispatch from Washington, D. C., under date of February 14, gives the following interesting report of a conference between Rear Admiral Albert W. Grant, a native Stevens Point, and the house committee on naval affairs:

Held for ten days on a German submarine under the belief that he was a German and entitled to protection, an American youth secured inestimable information regarding the inner secrets of the new German U-boats.

Rear Admiral Grant, commandant of the submarine flotilla, today told the house naval affairs committee that this was how this government secured information that was badly needed.

He told the committee flatly that three of the new German type submarines would prove a match for twenty-two of the "K" type of the American navy.

Y. W.'s HAVE BANQUET.

Miss Mary Louise Allen of New York City Honor Guest at Event.

The Y. W. C. A. girls of the Normal held a banquet in the school gymnasium Tuesday night, when Miss Mary Louise Allen of New York city was the guest of honor.

Miss Allen is the editor of the association monthly and is a guest of Mrs. F. E. Walbridge at River Pines. Covers were laid for about one hundred, the gymnasium being prettily decorated in red and white.

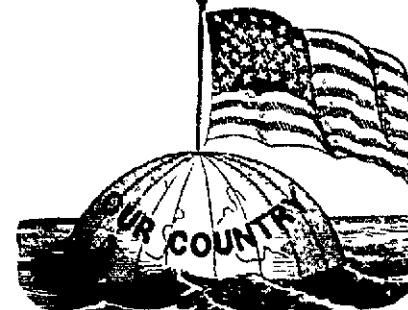

The guests of the Y. W. C. A. were Mesdames Walbridge, Smith and Delzell, Miss Brewster, Prof. and Mrs. F. N. Spindler, Pres. and Mrs. John F. Sims and the ministers of the city.

The banquet was prepared by the girls of the home economics club. Following this, toasts were given and Miss Allen responded with a talk.

It is planned to make the Y. W. C. A. banquet a yearly affair, this being the first of the kind given in the school.

The Social Center will meet at the graded school Friday evening. Rev. John Collier will give his "Chalk-Talk" Lecture. All are cordially invited.

The regular missionary meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Hugh Jones, Saturday, Feb. 19. Miss McLaughlin will lead and all are cordially invited.

A basket-ball game between the second teams of Sherry and Auburndale was played at Auburndale Wednesday evening. The score resulted in a victory for Auburndale.

The N. C. I. girls and the town girls have joined forces and met for their first basket-ball practice in the town hall Saturday evening. The N. C. I. boys also organized Saturday afternoon.

Tuesday, Feb. 15, Henry Becker and Miss Rassploch were united in marriage. They expect to spend some time visiting in Grand Rapids and southern Wisconsin before settling on their farm.

Rev. H. A. Anderson has accepted a call to the field of Sherry, Vesper and Arpin and was present at the three churches Sunday. Rev. R. A. Carnahan, financial secretary of the Synodical Missionary work in Wisconsin, was present and preached a fine sermon.

The seniors and sophomores of the N. C. I. entertained the freshman and juniors and several other guests Friday evening at a valentine party.

Heart-shaped invitations had been issued and the decorations were in yellow and white, combining the colors of the two classes. The evening was spent in playing games, after which refreshments were served.

Lightning rods! We've got them for sale at Custer.

J. M. Nedrest visited his home in Stevens Point over Sunday.

Mrs. J. M. Kluck was in Stevens Point last Thursday on business.

Anton Maslowski visited at Stevens Point between trains last Friday.

Miss Leary was down from Stevens Point to attend the leap year dance.

Miss Sophie Pasternacki was at Stevens Point over Saturday and Sunday.

J. M. Kluck, who is a patient at St. Michael's hospital in Stevens Point, is improving slowly.

Buy your corn from Bronx. He's just got in a car load of fancy dent corn and is selling at $1.50 per hundred.

Prices on potatoes: Seed varieties, 70 to 75 cents; Rose, Ohio, Cobblers, Triumphs, 90 cents; white stock, 73 to 75 cents.

We must compliment the teachers in our graded school here for good service. The little boys and girls are doing just fine.

The leap year dance last Friday evening was well attended and a good time is reported. A return dance will be given next Friday, the 18th.

J. M. Kluck will pay you the best price for potatoes. If you've got good spuds don't hesitate to ask him the price. He also is in the market for potatoes the right of way now-a-days.

Leon Brezinski and Barney Okray attended the leap year dance at Fosters hall and they report the best time in their lives. They wouldn't kick a bit if leap year was twice as long.

John Nedrest must have been bashful the night of the leap year dance, as this is the first time the old boy has missed a dancing party while employed at Custer.

A CIVIC AWAKENING.

Within the past several weeks there

COUNTY SCHOOL KOLUMN

Things Here and There Pertaining to Rural Educational Work.

(The Gazette will make this department as regular as contributions of news warrant. Teachers and others interested are invited to send articles of interest for publication here, but we must insist that communications be signed, altho the names will not be published if so requested.)

SERVE WARM LUNCHES.

Miss Mabel Roe, teacher of district school No. 4 in New Hope, is doing something that it is hoped will be extensively patterned after throughout the county. All winter Miss Roe has been serving warm lunches for the students each Tuesday and Thursday noon. The students furnish their own estables, and the experiment has been a marked success.

SCHOOLS RESUME SESSIONS.

After being closed for three weeks on account of an epidemic of whooping cough, district school No. 1 in Lanark, of which Miss Bessie Dwinell is teacher, reopened Monday.

District school No. 9 in Plover, Miss Barbara Van Hecke teacher, resumed sessions last week after being closed for a time on account of a small-pox scare. The precautions taken by Dr. G. D. Whiteside, health officer, and others in charge removed the danger of an epidemic.

SCHOOLS HAVE SIEGHRISE.

The students of the Porter and McDill schools in the town of Plover, of which the Misses Jessie and Ruth Finnessy are teachers, had a big time at a sleighride party last Friday afternoon. Two sleighs with the youngsters aboard left the schools at 1 o'clock and the route led to this city and back to the McDill school, where supper was served. As they passed through the business district their merry shouts and laughter attracted much attention.

TRANSPORT STUDENTS.

A solution of the transportation problem, for the present winter at least, has been found in joint district No. 8 in Amherst, where Miss Mabel Brekke is the teacher. Two well known residents of the district, Henry Quinn and Sam Swenson, have been hauling the boys and girls during the present winter. Mr. Swenson takes them to school in the morning and Mr. Quinn returns them to their homes in the evening. They are doing it without pay, in a financial sense, but have the satisfaction of knowing that their efforts are appreciated by the youngsters, who are saved many miles of steps over snow-covered roads, some of the time in zero weather.

A COMMUNITY GATHERING.

Following the suggestion of State Supt. Mary C. Bradford of Colorado, a community meeting will be held in the schoolhouse of Dist. No. 7, Lanark, Monday evening, Feb. 21, in charge of Clara E. Steffan.

Community singing of favorite songs led by W. C. Atkinson, with Clara A. Leahy as accompanist on the new school organ, will be a leading feature of the evening.

Special effort is being made by the teacher, pupils and other members of the district to arrange a musical and literary program.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend and share in the nationwide observance of the "National Week of Song."

AN ESSAY CONTEST.

Mrs. Hannah E. Patchin of Weyauwega has sent out announcements of an essay contest for which $50 in prizes is offered. The essays are to favor equal suffrage for men and women and all essays must be sent to Ada L. James, Richland Center, Wis., on or before April 1, 1916. Each competing essay should be signed with an assumed name, and a sealed envelope containing the assumed name, the real name and address and the name or number of the school should be forwarded with the essay. The prizes in the two classes follow: For best essay written by High school student $10; second best, $5; ten essays of merit the sum of $1 each. For best essay written by student in training school, district school, business college or parochial school, $10; second best, $5; ten essays of merit, $1 each. Twenty-five schools must be represented in either class to make the offer hold. Further particulars can be received from teachers of the county.

RETURNS FROM MADISON.

Miss Frances C. Bannach, county superintendent, returned home last Saturday from Madison, where she spent the week. The convention of the county superintendents' association, of which Miss Bannach is the retiring secretary-treasurer, was held on Tuesday and Miss Bannach gave an address before the organization, dealing with the community conference recently held here. The general subject at the meeting was that of securing legislation giving the county superintendents more supervising power, in order that the standard of rural schools may be raised, and for better school buildings. Of the 72 superintendents in the state, 68 were present, and officers were elected as follows: President, A. M. Arveson, Langlade county; vice president, Martin Stenerson, Polk county; secretary-treasurer, Miss Dona Taylor, Dunn county. The gathering of county superintendents, called by State Superintendent C. P. Cary, was held on Wednesday and Thursday.

REPORT FROM HEADQUARTERS.

Recently some of the papers of the county, including The Gazette, published an article, by request, about a consolidated school that is supposedly located at Ledgewood, N. D. Ledgewood is in Richland county, N. D., and a letter was written to the county superintendent of that county inquiring as to the truth of several statements made in regard to the expense of maintaining the consolidated school and the hardships undergone by children in being transported. An answer has been received from Supt. Charles Hanson of Richland county which emphasizes that the only open country consolidated school in his territory is in Sheyenne township. The letter, in part, follows:

"As to the cost: It is true that in Sheyenne township, where the consolidated school is, that the local school tax is higher than it probably would be if the old plan continued. They have had consolidation in that district for about eight years, I think. The highest school tax was in 1912, when it amounted to an average of a little more than $41 a section.

"School taxes vary considerably in different districts and besides they are generally higher than they were eight or ten years ago. My judgment is that, in general, the running expenses of a consolidated school are not so very much more than those of other schools.

"I think that I am safe in saying the longest any one child is on the road going to or from school is one and one-half hours. I suppose the average distance covered by a driver on a round trip is in the neighborhood of ten or twelve miles. Salary of driver: I notice by the treasurer's report from Sheyenne that $812 was paid last year for transportation. As there are four drivers this is very low. I think it ordinarily costs much more, about $45 or $50 a month for each driver.

"Teachers are paid $55 a month. I think in this school the teachers do the janitor work.

"State aid: State aid is granted under certain conditions. Not all consolidated schools get it. Second class schools (those with two or three rooms) receive $500 a year. First class schools (those with four or more rooms) receive $600 a year.

"There are no other open country consolidated schools in this county."

CONSOLIDATION.

Have you heard of consolidation
In the town of B. V.?
There they believe in education,
But some of them can't see.

There's a school in Janesville
Where the blind are made to see;
Some would be willing to go there
If transportation were free.

Some complain of war tax,
And some of revenue,
But oh! The awful school tax—
Boo hoo, hoo, hoo.

Good roads we must have;
Good buildings, too;
Automobiles to carry us;
But little folks, what for you?

You can do as we did,
Some day leave your home,
Mingle with the city folks;
Will you be the drone?

The fate of the nation
Depends entirely on you,
From Buena Vista? Oh my,
Do the blind care for you?

They can't see how state aid
Would enable us
To cope with the city folks,
And, oh! such a fuss.

We don't care what they say,
Or care what they think;
Read the judge's decision
And think, think, think.

Please remember the date,
Where? Where? At S. Pt.
Decision was in our favor,
So we'll say no more of thee.

Dear Father, let thy blessings rest,
On the consolidation band;
Oh may be very soon
Within our big school stand.

MOVE TO CUDAHY.

C. J. Green and daughter, Mrs. G. E. Morrill, went to Waupaca Sunday afternoon and visited their daughter and sister, Mrs. Frank Veneska, the former until Sunday night and Mrs. Morrill until Monday evening. Mrs. Veneska is planning on going to Cudahy to reside, her husband, who had been working in a Waupaca garage, having gone to Cudahy recently to take a position as machinist with the Power Mining Co.

PRE-NUPTIAL ENTERTAINMENT.

Among the social events mentioned in Saturday's Wausau Record-Herald society columns was the following which will interest many friends and acquaintances of the bride-elect in Stevens Point:

One of the prettiest dancing parties of the season was a pre-nuptial event given by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pettic, in honor of Miss Eleanor Deutsch, at K. C. hall last evening. Dainty paper caps, designed in many shades, were given the men and girls on their arrival, after which the dancing program opened with a promenade led by Miss Esther Deutsch, Ed. Wenzel of Milwaukee, and Mr. and Mrs. Pettic. The dancing program throughout was very pleasing and the music was excellent. An interesting feature of the evening was the crowning of Miss Eleanor Deutsch, queen, and her fiance, Robert A. Allanson, of Elgin, Ill., king.

As the latter was unable to be present, Roman Deutsch acted as his proxy in accepting the crown. The ball room was arranged very artistically with palms, ferns, Japanese lanterns, and streamers of red, green and white. A cozy corner in the front of the building suggested a pleasant retreat. From a wedding bell in the center of the room, radiated gay streamers, and the lights were veiled with red. The names of Miss Deutsch and Mr. Allanson were placed in novel ways on the decorations, suggesting the nuptial event of the future. Miss Grace Wright of Antigo, Walter Grundy of Marathon, Ralph Wells of Appleton and L. Eilers of New York were out-of-town guests.

A SOLDIER'S RECORD

Interesting Account of Army Service
During Civil War By the Late
A. N. Maltby.

A. N. Maltby, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. N. Welsh, last Wednesday afternoon, was a Civil war veteran and took part in Sherman's "March to the Sea" and the Grand Review at Washington. Among the possessions he left was a brief account of his army record, which is published below and will undoubtedly prove interesting to Gazette readers:

"I enlisted August 7, 1862, at Tomah, Wis. The company was quartered in Sparta and joined the regiment at La Crosse. Was mustered into United States service September 14, 1862, with Co. D, 25th Regiment, Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry.

"The regiment was ordered to Minnesota on October 1 and D company was stationed at Mankato to protect the city from the Indians. In December of that year the regiment was ordered back to Wisconsin and we marched from Mankato to La Crosse. Arrived at Madison Dec. 20, when we all got a ten day furlough.

"In the February following we went south via Chicago and Cairo, Ill., and went into camp at Columbus, Ky., where we stayed until June 1, when we went down the Mississippi river to Vicksburg, then up the Yazoo river to Yazoo City, then back to Haynes Bluff, in the rear of Vicksburg, where we were in the siege until the surrender on July 4, 1863. On July 11 got a sick furlough home for 30 days, and rejoined my company and regiment at Helena, Ark., September 1. At this time the 25th had only 57 men fit for duty and 800 men on the company rolls. In February we left Helena and went again to Vicksburg, and from that place on the Meridian March with Sherman. We were back in Vicksburg at the end of 30 days and then went by steamboat up the Mississippi to Cairo, then up the Ohio and the Tennessee rivers to Mussels Shoals, then by rail to Decatur, Ala. From there we marched to Chattanooga, Tenn., and on the first of May, 1864, started with General Sherman on the Atlanta campaign.

"At this time the 25th was in the Second Brigade, 4th Division, 16th Army Corps, Army of the Tennessee. This division was in the flanking corps and was all the time marching or fighting. Our first battle was at Resaca, May 14, 1864. The company and regiment took part in all the fighting, including the battle of Atlanta, and the chase after General Hood's Confederates back toward Chattanooga. At Atlanta Co. D lost just one-half of the company in killed, wounded and prisoners. Of the four captured, three were wounded and died in the Andersonville prison, while the fourth was exchanged.

"Before beginning the March to the Sea we were reorganized and our brigade, the 43rd and 63rd Ohio, the 17th New York and the 35th New Jersey was the 2nd Brigade, 7th Division, 17th Army Corps, General Mower Division Commander.

"The March to the Sea began in Nov. 1864, and before Christmas we had taken the city of Savannah, Ga. In January, 1865, we went by transport to Beaufort, S. C., and captured Fort Pocatello. On February 1 we began the march for Richmond, Va. Our last battle was at Bentonville, N. C. Was at Raleigh, N. C., when General Johnson and army surrendered to Sherman. From Raleigh we marched through Richmond and Petersburg to Washington; took part in the Grand Review and was mustered out the 7th day of June, 1865, by reason of the end of the war.

"I was appointed corporal August 27, 1862, at La Crosse, and sergeant October 1, 1863, by M. Montgomery, colonel commanding the regiment. I was in every march, skirmish and battle in which the regiment took part and was in command of the company in its last battle at Bentonville, N. C. At the time we were mustered out at Washington, D. C., I was offered a brevet captaincy and refused it."

LEAP YEAR DANCE A SUCCESS.

The leap year dancing party given by the young ladies of Custer, in Forsters hall last Friday, was a grand success, financially as well as socially. The weather being favorable, people attended from all parts of the country, including a large load from the city. The ladies who drove out from here and took gentlemen friends were: Nellie, Cecile and Loretta Leary, Cicely Clark, Hattie and Lenz Corcoran, Loretta Sullivan, Loretta O'Connor and Esther Herman.

The hall was neatly decorated and every effort was made by the young ladies in charge to show their guests a good time. The chaperones present were Messrs. and Mesdames Mike O'Keefe of Arnott, Martin Heffron, Will Cauley, Walter and Tim Leary of Custer.

The young gentlemen of Custer will give a return party on Friday evening of this week. It is hoped that weather conditions will be such that a large crowd may attend.

TRIANGLE FEATURES.

The Triangle feature plays to be shown at the Gem Friday and Saturday evenings of this week are "The Sable Lorch" and "Stolen Magic." "The Sable Lorch" is a "Fine Arts" production, dealing with Chinatown and featuring Tully Marshall and Thomas Jefferson. The action is fast-moving and the story is a gripping one from start to finish. "Stolen Magic" is a Keystone featuring Ray Hitchcock and Mabel Normand, which is sufficient to guarantee that it is as good as the best.

Those who have been attending and marvelling at the Triangle pictures being shown at the Gem during the past few weeks have undoubtedly wondered how Prof. Feurmann "played the pictures" so perfectly. The solution lies in the fact that Triangle films are always accompanied by a complete musical score, patterned after that of the famous "Birth of a Nation."

WANT ASPHALTIC-CONCRETE.

At the last meeting of the common council the board of public works was instructed to engage a surveyor and secure plans and specifications for the paving of Wisconsin street, from Division to Church. Last Friday evening owners of a majority of the property abutting on the street met at the home of Dr. J. D. Lindores and concluded to insist upon asphaltic-concrete pavement, like that on Normal avenue, and also to include a five-foot parking in the middle of the street as a part of the plan. The parking, aside from its attractive appearance, would give better access to the big sewer that runs down the street to the river in case of trouble. It is the plan to pave Pine street for a distance of one block, from Wisconsin south to Division street, at the same time, making four blocks in all.

CHOOSE THE DEBATERS

Two Teams To Represent Stevens Point in Inter-Normal Contests Are Selected.

The tryout for the River Falls-Superior-Stevens Point, inter-normal debate was held in the Normal auditorium last Thursday evening and six debaters were selected who will represent Stevens Point in the two inter-scholastic contests.

Those chosen were Emil Hofsoos, William Gilson, Guy Blaisdall, Charlotte Nachtwey, Peter Paulson and Adelaide Young. The judges were Profs. M. M. Ames, E. J. Herrick and R. W. Fairchild. Prof. Hippenstein acted as referee and Sam Ellis, president of the school oratorical association, presided. The contest was spirited from start to finish, the debaters ably acquitting themselves, making it difficult for the judges to make a selection. The question debated was "Resolved, That the United States should own and operate interstate telephones and telegraphs."

Hofsoos, Gilson and Birdsall will constitute the team which debates River Falls at River Falls, while Miss Nachtwey, Miss Young and Paul Paulson will debate against Superior Normal in this city. The date of the contests has not been definitely decided upon but it is expected to stage them sometime in April. Gladys Blood and Charles Burns were selected as alternates for the two teams. Prof. Jas. E. Delzell will have active charge of the coaching and will no doubt turn out teams which will make excellent showings.

ENTERTAIN SORORITY.

The Misses Louise Southwick and Elizabeth Mathie were hostesses to members of the Tau Gamma Beta sorority and their gentlemen friends at the home of Miss Southwick, on Church street, last Friday evening. Dancing, with Victrola music, was the feature of the evening's entertainment. Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Bischoff were the chaperones.

THE SUBMARINE MAN

Everybody's Contains Article About
Albert W. Grant, in Charge of Sub-sea Fleet.

Much has been said and written about Rear Admiral Albert W. Grant during the past several months, and in all Stevens Point people have been personally interested, for Rear Admiral Grant was born and grew to young manhood in this city.

Among the magazine articles in this connection is the following from Everybody's, which also contained an excellent picture of Grant:

A Japanese fleet which evaded our sea-going ships on the Pacific and which arrived at our coast with troops to land, would be very much interested in Admiral Grant. He would be right there in charge of under-water efforts to prevent the landing. He is Chief of the Submarine Service.

Civil dignitaries in Washington seem to have given up their ingenious idea of not building submarines till the European war had shown us the final improvements in them. Some one (perhaps it was Col. House) may have pointed out the cruel fact that there never was any final improvements in anything. Submarine construction will keep on changing all the time; and it will change just as much during the peace after this war as it is changing now. Now, therefore, is just as good a time as any for stepping into the water.

This has at last been admitted; and accordingly, we have today the excellent number of forty submarines authorized and building. In service we have thirty-seven. Ten of these are on the Pacific coast. If they did not prevent a landing, it is not likely that anything would. In all military history there are no cases in which a really bold and capable effort to land troops by a force controlling the sea, has been successfully resisted. Which brings us to the army.

FISHERMEN TO MEET.

The Fishermen's club of the Baptist church has arranged for an open meeting to be held at the church on Friday evening, February 25. At that time Prof. James J. Malott of the River Falls Normal will be present and deliver an address on "Training for Christian Citizenship."

PEARLS OF PRICE

By IZOLA FORRESTER.

"How much were they worth?" asked Hobart. Gertrude stood near the open fireplace. It was all so unbelievable and stupid. There were only five in the house besides herself and Hobart—the Kincaids, whom they had known for years; Sewall Tate, Florry Tate, his sister, and Granger Fredericks, Hobart's best friend.

"About ten thousand, I think, Barty. Father never puts a price tag on anything, you know, but he bought them for mother at Venice when they were on their honeymoon. I wore them only Friday night and—and I think I put them in the little jewel drawer of my dressing table."

"Without a lock?"

"I've never locked up anything here. It can't be any guest, and I know it isn't the servants."

"Are you sure you lost them after you had taken them off—that they didn't slip off your neck somewhere?"

"But I only wore them that evening, dear, and we didn't go out of the house. If they had slipped off, we'd have found them somewhere. You don't think—"

His eyes met hers questioningly.

"Sewall?"

"He's seemed kind of moody, don't you think so, Barty?"

Hobart shook his head, blowing out smoke from his mouth in rings.

"Not Sewall. He's regular fellow, Trudie. I'd rather consider even Kincaid losing his head. He's been awfully hard hit the last month. Dropped fifty thousand in two days last week, I heard. That's why I asked them out here—to rest up and get his grip back."

The sound of a chair scraping back out in the sun parlor stopped him. Fredericks came in with his customary smile of splendid, genial good cheer and satisfaction with life.

"Barty," he said, happily, "I'm going to stay here longer than you've asked me to. You can't get rid of me yet awhile. It's the most perfect rest spot I've found since I left California. Kincaid says he's called back to town suddenly, but I'm going to plant my standards."

"Stay as long as you like, old man," answered Hobart heartily. "So Kincaid's going today? He hadn't told me. I'm mighty sorry."

Gertrude could not help looking at him meaningly. It seemed terrible even to suspect in their thoughts quiet Kincaid. Barty had left the room, and she caught Granger eying her with amusement.

"I've never seen you serious before," he said.

"Am I serious?" she laughed and sighed at the same time. "Oh, Granger, life's pretty much of a tangle after all, isn't it?"

It was a relief when the last had gone, excepting Fredericks. He sat out in the sun parlor nearly all day long, working on his new play. Hobart had finally settled in his own mind it must have been Kincaid. But Gertrude suspected young Sewall. And, finally, there came out to the beautiful shore country home a detective.

Hobart was in town, and Gertrude dredged handling the affair by herself, but she gave all information by degrees, and followed him around the house until they came on Granger in the sun parlor. She introduced the visitor hesitatingly. And Granger stared a minute, stretched out his hand and laughed heartily.

"God bless your heart, Gertrude. I didn't think you'd take it so seriously. Wait a minute, child." He dug into his inner coat pocket and drew out something wrapped in a pocket handkerchief. "There are your pearls all safe and sound. You see, Hobart didn't mention them, and neither did you, and I couldn't tell for the life of me what you meant to do about them, and I could not possibly finish that third act until you did do something definite."

"Third act?" repeated Gertrude. "Granger, what have you done?"

"Just experimented," he answered playfully. "I knew neither you nor Barty would mind a bit when you found me out. I've had the very deuce of a time working out my third act, you see, and I've got just this sort of a situation, only the girl steals a necklace of diamonds. But your pearls are served quite as well. But there are your pearls!"

"Oh, Granger, Granger!" She leaned back against the glass door, holding the pearls and laughing.

The detective had stepped back into the library. Fredericks took his favorite seat at the round willow table, and waved his pencil at her happily.

"I'm sorry they weren't diamonds," he said. "It might have worked out better. Still, pearls have more character."

History of American Oranges. The orange was originally introduced into Florida by the Spaniards, who imported a few sour oranges and gave some of the fruit to the Indians. The seeds of these fruit, being distributed from village to village and finding congenial soil and favorable climatic conditions in the hardwood forests and live oak groves where the sun and radiation, grew up into seedling trees, and in due time formed wild groves of immense extent throughout the northern and central parts of peninsula Florida.

BEST PART OF FISH WASTED

Public Really Not Educated to Appreciate the Tidbits of the Alaska Salmon.

As I saw the Admiral Watson taking on thousands of cases of salmon at Seldovia I asked Mr. Randolph how long the fish then being shipped had been out of the water, relates John A. Slesicher, in Leslie's. He said: "Only a day. They go from here to Seattle and can be on your table in New York in three or four weeks after they are caught." Fresh fish!

Mr. Randolph said that one of the choicest delicacies he ever ate was a mess of breaded broiled hearts of the big king salmon. Some of these fish weigh 180 pounds each, while the red or "sockeye" salmon average only eight pounds. "They taste like sweet-breads," he added. "It is too bad they are wasted." And so are the fine, large livers, as big as your hand, and the spawn which if it was sturgeon eggs would command a high price for caviar. Plans to utilize some of these products are being studied by Mr. Randolph and by others. Another tidbit is the little chunk of sweet, tender meat lodged in the cheek of the salmon, just below the gills. The canners reserve such delicacies for themselves and their friends, but the time will come when they will find special mention on the menus of the highest-priced restaurants.

The canners get at wholesale only about thirteen cents for a one-pound can of the best red salmon and only half the price for the pink and even less for the white. The red salmon constituted only three-sevenths of the pack, but three-fourths in value of the entire product. The public prefers the red meat and is willing to pay double price for it. So much for gratifying a taste.

PERFUME LURES THIS AUTO

It Plunges Across Sidewalk Into Big Display Window on Broadway, New York.

Mrs. Harry E. Klein, wife of Charles Dillingham's general manager, was approaching Longacre square, on Broadway, in the new $5,000 automobile her husband gave her for Christmas, says the New York Telegram. Nearing Forty-seventh street, she made up her mind to run in near the curb and make a purchase. But coming up, "on the wrong side of the road" and heading right at her Christmas gift, was a low, rakish machine of sinister aspect.

Mrs. Klein realized her peril. She suddenly turned to the right to save her car and avoid a crash. The machine bounded like a gay torpedo out of peril.

An actor on the sidewalk shouted his best and fled, the Christmas car in full pursuit. Through the plate-glass windows of Peter Ferri's perfume shop the Christmas gift went.

In that window reposed perfumes at nine dollars an ounce. Gasoline and scents of Arab, Hymettus and parts about the Christmas present mingled.

Mrs. Klein, spattered with perfume, clattered out of the car, unhurt.

Wanted Market Price for Votes.

A corpulent negro woman came into the office of Judge George I. Griffith of Kansas City, Kan., one morning and inquired for the "judge." "What can I do for you?" asked the judge. "Is you runnin' fo' judge again?" she asked.

"Yes, I'm trying to get the nomination," the judge replied. "What's the 'sideration fo' votes dia yeah?" "What!" almost yelled the judge, beginning to understand the drift of the conversation. "Ah means," explained the negro, "is votes wuth one dollar or two dollars dia lection?"

"Are you aware that it is a serious offense for a person to sell his vote?" sternly demanded the judge. "Ah don' exactly undahstan' yoh, judge, but if yoh means yoh ain't buyin' 'em, dat's all right. Ah believe yoh's no politish un nohow." And with this contemptuous parting shot she left the office.

New Use for Submarines.

It is reported that the Germans are laying mines from submarines. The mines are carried one above another in a vertical air-tight chamber within the submarine. When they are to be laid, water is admitted to the chamber and a door in the outer shell of the hull closing the chamber is opened.

The mines are then released, one by one, through proper appliances. The mine anchor sinks to the bottom and, by suitable mechanism, the anchorage cable is unwound to permit the mine to float at the desired depth below the surface. This method of mine laying is absolutely secret, and therefore is proportionately dangerous to the enemy.

Where Accordions Are Popular.

The natives of Madagascar are great lovers of music, and in addition to their own primitive instruments the accordion is very popular. Within the last few years the importation of these instruments has shown a steady increase, about 20,000 being imported annually to the value of about 150,000 francs ($28,950). These goods have practically all been imported from Germany.

The orange was originally introduced into Florida by the Spaniards, who imported a few sour oranges and gave some of the fruit to the Indians. The seeds of these fruit, being distributed from village to village and finding congenial soil and favorable climatic conditions in the hardwood forests and live oak groves where the sun and radiation, grew up into seedling trees, and in due time formed wild groves of immense extent throughout the northern and central parts of peninsula Florida.

TWELVE DISTINCT CLASSES OF CHICKENS

Columbian Wyandotte, White Leghorn and White Wyandotte.

(By RUPERT L. STEWART, New Mexico State College.)

"What is the best breed of poultry?" This is a question that is so often asked that a few words by way of explanation might not be amiss.

In the first place there is no such thing as "the best breed" for all locations and conditions. There are so many things that enter into the selection of a breed of fowls that one can readily see how utterly impossible an accurate answer is to so general a question.

In the second place there are some twelve distinct classes of chickens, and in each class there are from three to six breeds, and these breeds divided into from six to twelve varieties.

Each class, breed, or variety has some points that make it particularly well adapted to the purpose for which it is intended. And right here lies the important point in deciding upon the kind of poultry to keep. First of all decide whether you are to raise chickens for eggs, meat, or both, and your problem is more than half solved.

There are three classes of chickens that the farmer needs to consider in selecting his farm flock, viz.:

(a) Asiatic class, including the Brahmans, Langshans, and Cochins, which are large in frame, rather coarse and fairly clumsy, somewhat unproductive, exceedingly broody in

(b) American class, which includes the Plymouth Rocks, Wyandottes and the Rhode Island Reds. This is a dual-purpose class, having reasonably good production and excellent meat qualities. They are hardy, attractive, and have good material qualities. The Plymouth Rocks are the most popular breed generally, but all of the three breeds in this class are of wide distribution. The Orpington breed belongs to the English class but has the same general characteristics as the breeds in the American class.

(c) The Mediterranean class includes the Leghorns, Anconas, Minorcas, Hamburgs, Spanish, Andalusiens, etc. This is distinctly the egg laying class, and are active, prolific, nervous, small, non-broody but very hardy. The White Leghorns are the most popular variety in this class.

They lay a white egg of medium size and reach the period of production earlier than any other class of birds.

In other words, the White Leghorn hen is the most practical egg laying machine that we have today.

BUYERS DISLIKE SCALY LEGS

Fowls With Long Toenails Are Seldom Good Egg Producers—Keep Birds in Condition.

The success of egg production depends largely upon the activity of the bird. The reason the Leghorns excel in egg production is largely because they keep themselves in good physical condition. They exercise. The hen that is inactive and shows long toenails is seldom a good producer. The hen that is first off the roost in the morning, keeps busy during the day and is last to go to roost at night is the profitable hen.

Some birds have the disposition to take exercise; others have to be forced. This is especially true of the heavier breeds. Strains of Rocks and other breeds are inclined to be lazy and in a short time get so fat that they cannot produce eggs in satisfactory quantities. The circulation of blood to the ovary is restricted by the excessive fat. This unquestionably interferes with the normal functioning of the ovary and reduces egg production.

Exercise can best be encouraged by not overfeeding. The poultry house should be bedded with a foot or more of straw and the grain buried in this.

The skill of the poultry feeder is tested by the manner in which he compels the hens to exercise.

Overfeeding causes inactivity, which will be manifested by few holes being dug in the straw. Egg production is quite largely dependent upon keeping the birds in condition. In summer it can be encouraged by sowing the yards and letting the hens dig up the grain.

KEEP THE LAYING HENS BUSY

The unsightly disease, known as scaly legs, is exceedingly injurious to the marketability of chickens, making them objectionable sights to buyers. Moreover, it is extremely contagious, one diseased fowl being enough to infect an entire flock in short order. This information should be especially interesting to South Carolina poultrymen, since the extension poultry husbandman of Clemson college states that he has seen more of the scaly-leg disease in this state than anywhere else he has ever been.

The disease appears only on the legs of fowls and is caused by the ravages of a mite which bears the name sarcoptes mutans. It is more likely to be found where fowls are kept in a small yard or on the bare ground. A good grass range is helpful in overcoming the disease.

To treat scaly legs, thoroughly cleanse the legs by washing with hot water, soap, and a handy brush. Dry them and immerse them in a solution of equal parts of coal oil, (kerosene) and cottonseed oil. Treat the fowls' legs in this way twice daily for a few days and then once daily until the shanks resume their natural appearance.

GOOD TREATMENT FOR COLDS

Wheezing or Difficult Breathing of Fowl May Be Doctored With Lard and Turpentine.

Before you shut up the poultry house for the night, especially in bad weather, listen for any chance wheezing or difficult breathing. If you hear anything of the kind locate the fowl immediately and put it by itself in some well sheltered nook. Never leave a fowl of this kind with the whole flock.

Colds are catching in fowls as well as man. A first good doctoring with warm lard mixed with half turpentine, and a little coal oil added, will often be all the doctoring needed to rout the wheezing or rattling.

For a grown fowl give a teaspoonful of this three times the first day and grease the throat outside with the same preparation.

Dust the Hens Occasionally.

Hens should be dusted with insect powder occasionally, but the presence of a good dust bath will make these necessary occasions far fewer. Mix about one pound of powdered sulphur with each bushel of dust for the best results.

Watch for Slight Colds.

Keep a sharp lookout for "slight colds." Give light doses of epsom salts in mash or in drinking water. Make sure of dry floors and litter, plenty of air, but no drafts and—let the sunshine in!

Fancy Eggs.

Eggs are "fancy" when fresh, clear and full bodied; when shells are sound, clean, bright and of uniform color; when they weigh 24 ounces or more to the dozen. It pays to produce and market fancy eggs.

Very Few Sick Fowls.

The poultry breeder who studies the condition of his fowls and gives them comfortable surroundings is the man who succeeds and has very few sick fowls.

FORESIGHT MADE HIM RICH

Missouri Druggist's Investment in Quinine Before the War Proved Good Speculation.

One does not have to live in a large town to find an opportunity to make a fortune. The opportunities are everywhere. It is only the man with his eyes open who sees them. Druggist Dinnitt of Rochester, Mo., who remembered the demand for quinine during the Civil war, had his eyes open, for he bought 10,000 ounces of quinine a little more than a year ago at 14 cents an ounce. His judgment proved correct, for the quinine that cost him $1,400 is now worth $25,000, and it may go higher.

He has had nothing to do with increasing the price. It is the demand that is putting it up. A philanthropist might argue that it is a crime to make money out of the necessities of the sick; but philanthropists who refuse to turn an honest penny when the opportunity offers are few and far between.

Some of them do not indulge in philanthropy as a recreation until they have accumulated a large surplus by squeezing the last cent of profit from every transaction. In the meantime the Dinnitts of big towns and little ones are doing their best to qualify themselves for benevolence by making hay while death wields the scythe.

KILLS HIMSELF AS HE SLEEPS

New York Physician Makes Fatal Use of Revolver When He Dreams of Battle.

Dr. Arthur L. Reeve, Brooklyn, shot and killed himself in bed. His wife, who was asleep at his side, said that she believes he took his life while in the grip of a nightmare. Mrs. Reeve was awakened by the shot. She reached over and touched her husband, but he did not move.

"It's purely an accident," said Mrs. Reeve later. "He dreamed he was battling with someone, and reached under his pillow, got the revolver he always kept there, and shot himself while asleep."

Mrs. Reeve added that two nights before her husband had a nightmare, during which he wandered around the house, being awakened when he bumped his head against a door. She said that sometimes in his dreams the physician would cry out with fright. There was no reason for him to commit suicide, she said.

Moved by Supervisor Playman that the resolution be adopted. Motion carried.

Clerk read the following report of the Portage County Humane Society:

To the Honorable County Board of Supervisors of Portage County, Wisconsin. Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen:—We take pleasure in presenting to you the following report of the Portage county branch of the Wisconsin Humane Society for the year ending Nov. 1, 1915.

We appreciate your interest, and thank you for your co-operation in the past, and because of it we are able to submit the following report:

We have twelve commissioned agents stationed in different parts of the county, as follows: John Hofsoos, M. E. Bruce, J. W. Strope, Stevens Point, Henry Grashorn, Junction City; Theo. Meyers, N. W. Jenson, Amherst; Alex Kluck, Custer; H. H. Hoffman, Amherst Junction; Ben Halverson, New Hope; George Trageser, Plover; John Himmes, Rosholt; M. W. Johnson, Almond.

The annual reports of a number of these agents are here for your inspection.

Gentlemen of the county board, this field of labor is a particularly delicate one. It is not a pleasant thing to interfere with your neighbor for abusing his horse, or neglecting his cow, or whipping his wife or children, or to make enemies of drunken or vicious men. We did not answer the call to the humane work because we lacked occupation or desired publicity. We would gladly be relieved of the burden, but cannot conscientiously do so while we know that even in this splendid county of ours there is cruel and inhuman treatment inflicted on young children, old people, the feeble minded and the dumb animals.

It is our aim to guard the children of poverty stricken homes from vicious and immoral surroundings. In June we called to see a small boy who was living in such a home. We had him removed to a good home, where he is now fat, well cared for and happy.

An orphan boy from the Home for Dependent Children at Sparta had been adopted by a farmer. This boy was misused and so cruelly beaten that his flesh showed the ridges. He finally ran away and slept in a straw stack, where he was found by threshers. An officer of the society was notified and the boy taken in charge until an agent of the home could be sent, when he was returned to the orphanage at Sparta.

We have furnished clothing for destitute children. We believe it is no false statement to say that the calls made upon this society average at least one daily. Often times several calls are received the same day.

All complaints are given attention, and if the case warrants it steps for relief are taken. We have relieved all sorts of cruel conditions of animals such as the following: We have stopped horses from being worked in cases of extreme lameness and also horses with galled shoulders or neck. Horses improperly shod on icy or slippery pavements have been sent to the barn or blacksmith. Horses left standing too long on the street or unblanketed in severe weather have been sent to the stable. In one instance a horse was left on the street all of one night and the following day, while the owner enjoyed himself in a nearby saloon. About five o'clock in the afternoon an officer of this society was notified and the horse promptly taken in charge.

A pair of very lame mules being used by the Standard Oil agent between Waupaca and Amherst Junction were taken out of service permanently.

Our last case was that of three horses tied together and caught in a wire fence.

We found that a mule had been turned into a pasture and left several days at a time without water.

In another place the owner of three cows goes on a drunk periodically, and on these occasions the cows are left in the pasture unfed and unwatered for two or three days at a time.

In August we were notified that a car of chickens was left standing on the track from Saturday until Monday without food or water. We gave the matter our immediate attention and also relieved the over-crowded condition of the chickens.

We have done what we could about the cruelty of shipping stock. This is one of the hardest problems of the Humane Societies' work, on account of there being so much chance to shift responsibility.

We have made trips by auto, by horse and by rail to investigate stables where animals were disabled and diseased. In eight of these cases the animals were shot on sight by Agent Bruce.

The few instances recorded here are by no means a summary of the year's work; but are sufficient to show the necessity of maintaining the society.

While we believe we are doing a present good work in relieving the condition of the helpless and mis-used, we place our hopes for permanent betterment upon the rising generation. We are striving to enlist the sympathies of children in behalf of animals. We believe the child will not only retain this training throughout his life, but that in many cases he will influence cruel parents.

Teach children to "treat a horse like a gentleman and a cow like a lady" and they will not be slow to mention this at home.

We believe that humane education will accomplish much in the way of morals. It is not only the suffering of the animal we are trying to prevent; it is also the moral degradation of the one who causes the suffering. Some of our noted educators claim that those who have been taught to love animals seldom become criminals, and that in searching for the cause of crime, they find that the lack of humane education is the principal one.

Because of our interest in humane education we have furnished a manual on this subject for each school in the county, and have urged the teachers to use them in accordance with the law of 1913. We thank this honorable board of supervisors for past help and trust we may again have your co-operation. Signed, Mrs. C. B. Baker, President; Mrs. A. P. Een, Secretary.

Moved by Supervisor Wilson that the report be adopted and the petition for an appropriation be laid over until tomorrow. Motion carried.

Clerk read the following resolution: Whereas, It is evident that the county highway commissioner cannot properly supervise the construction and also have the extra work of looking after the maintenance of the roads and bridges and in addition make the necessary surveys and plans for state aid road work, and

Whereas, It is the opinion of the board that it would be unwise for the county to purchase the necessary surveying and drafting instruments which would be necessary if the county highway commission was required to make the surveys.

Be It Resolved, That the county clerk be instructed to notify the state highway commission that they are hereby requested to make the necessary surveys for future state aid road work, the cost of these surveys to be paid for out of the general fund of the county.—D. W. Sawyer, Supervisor of Belmont.

Moved by Supervisor Hamilton that the resolution be adopted. Motion carried.

Moved by Supervisor Berry that the board adjourn until 9 o'clock a. m. tomorrow. Motion carried.

A. E. Bourn, County Clerk.

EIGHTH DAY

Stevens Point, Wis., Nov. 17, 1915, 9 o'clock a. m.

Meeting called to order by chairman, Hon. Ben Halverson.

Clerk called the roll; all members present.

Minutes of yesterday's session read and approved.

Clerk read the state tax appropriation levy, which was referred to the committee on ways and means.

Moved by Supervisor Park that a committee composed of the chairman, clerk and chairman of the buildings and grounds committee be appointed to investigate the need of having the old record books in the register of deeds' office rebound, and report to this board. Motion carried.

Moved by Supervisor Wilson that the report of the Portage County Traveling Library board be adopted and the petition be granted. Motion carried by 16 ayes and 13 nays. The following voted aye: Supervisors Brekke, Wilson, Sawyer, Berry, Timm, Laszewski, Gordon, Coddington, Gilbert, Lukasavitz, Park, Mansur, Playman, Jurek, Carpenter, Aldrich, Nays; Supervisors Hamilton, Brunker, Smith, Starks, Tovey, Tetzloff, Wolf, Stertz, Jordan, Frost, Halverson, Pratt, Wanta.

Following is the report and petition of the Portage County Traveling Library Board:

To the Honorable Chairman and Members of the Board of Supervisors of Portage County, Wisconsin. Gentlemen:—The twelfth annual report of funds received and expended by the Portage County Traveling Library Board is as follows:

RECEIPTS

Nov. 13, 1914, balance.....$ 7.05
July 6, 1915, received from the county treasurer from the general fund, Sec. 697, Laws of Wis.....75.00

$82.05

EXPENDITURES

Express and freight on chest of books.....$28.81
Rebinding 14 books.....5.90
Note books 25c, paper cambrie 18c, post cards and stamps $1.21, for repair.....1.64
Librarian.....45.70

$82.05

Still due on annual salary of librarian, $4.30, with no money in the treasury.

The librarian's report is as follows:

The report of Portage County Traveling Library, 1914-1915: Number of libraries, 29; number of libraries discarded, worn out, (No. 1) from use, 1; number of libraries aided, (no appropriation,) 0; number of volumes at beginning of year, English 1297, Norse 144, Foreign Polish 198, German 21; total 1660. Number of volumes added during year, 0; number of volumes discarded, English 38, foreign 22; total, 60. Number of volumes at end of year, English 1259, Norse 144, Foreign Polish 176, German 21; total, 1600.

Active stations, 27; circulation, 2,500. Mary Dunegan, librarian. The twenty-seven active stations are:

1, Almond; 2, Amherst; 3, Amherst Junction; 4, Arnott; 5, Bancroft; 6, Blaine; 7, Buena Vista; 8, Carson; 9, Coddington; 10, Eau Pleine; 11, Custer; 12, Dancy, (just added); 13, Ellis; 14, Grant; 15, Jordan; 16, Junction City; 17, Liberty Corners; 18, Linwood; 19, Nelsonville; 20, New Hope; 21, Peru; 22, Pine Grove; 23, Plover; 24, Polonia; 25, Rosholt; 26, Stockton; 27, Towne.

Each chest contains forty carefully selected books, some fiction, non-fiction and a few juvenile books, the list being taken from the approved list of the Library Commission at Madison. For the good German, Norse or Polish citizen who is too old to learn to read English there are a number of German, Norse or Polish books put into the chest as the locality requires.

Fifteen counties in Wisconsin have the County Traveling Library system—Portage County Traveling Library system was established in 1903 by the State Library Commission and it stands well in comparison with the others in the state. See 1913-1914 Report of Wisconsin Library Commission, page 19.

The chests are changed twice a year. To become a borrower it is only necessary to go to the location where the chest is kept, have the name enrolled, and get a card. Books may be kept two weeks and renewed if desired. A penny a day is charged if books are kept over time. Any book injured or lost must be reported by the borrower, and the value made good. Frequent letters and interviews from the readers indicate that the books are well liked in the different localities. Anyone in the county interested in securing a chest of books should write for information to Miss Dunegan, Librarian, Stevens Point.

No new books could be bought this year on account of having no appropriation—but it is hoped the good work will be supported and that the Board of Supervisors will grant the following petition:

The Members of the Portage County Traveling Library Board respectfully petition the Honorable Board of Supervisors of Portage County for an appropriation of two hundred dollars ($200) to carry forward this appropriation and good work established by our Wisconsin Library Commission. Signed, Mrs. G. E. McDill, Martha G. Week, Mrs. R. A. Cook, Mrs. A. P. Een, Amherst.

Moved by Supervisor Hamilton that the resolution on the appointment of an agricultural agent be laid over until the last week of this session. Motion carried.

The chairman at this time announced that he appointed the following as members of the Portage County Traveling Library Board: Mrs. A. P. Een for one year, term to expire in 1916; Mrs. G. E. McDill and Miss Martha Week for two years, terms to expire in 1917; Mrs. R. A. Cook for 3 years, term to expire in 1918; Mrs. F. J. Campbell of Almond for 1 year, to fill vacancy.

Moved by Supervisor Hamilton that the board adjourn until 1:30 o'clock p. m. Motion carried.

Stevens Point, Wis., Nov. 17, 1915, 1:30 o'clock p. m.

Meeting called to order by chairman, Hon. Ben Halverson.

Clerk called the roll, all members present.

Clerk reported that the committee appointed to investigate the need of having the old books in the register of deeds' office rebound had found quite a few that needed rebinding and that Wm. Maltby of Red Wing, Minn., would rebind them for the sum of $229.00.

Moved by Supervisor Hamilton that if the committee found that the work was necessary they have it done. Motion carried.

Clerk read the following petition, laid over from yesterday: To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of Portage County, Wisconsin. Gentlemen:—The Portage County Humane Society hereby respectfully petitions your honorable body for an appropriation of three hundred dollars to carry forward the humane educational campaign and other humane work in the county as outlined in the annual report of this society. Respectfully signed, Mrs. C. B. Baker; Mrs. A. P. Een, Secretary.

Moved by Supervisor Wilson that the petition be granted. Moved in amendment by Supervisor Sawyer that the petition be granted at $200.00. Amendment carried by 22 ayes and 7 nays. The following voted aye: Supervisors Hamilton, Smith, Sawyer, Berry, Tovey, Tetzloff, Wolf, sr., Timm, Laszewski, Stertz, Jordan, Frost, Halverson, Pratt, Coddington, Wanta, Lukasavitz, Park, Mansur, Playman, Jurek, Aldrich, Nays, Supervisors Brekke, Brunker, Wilson, Starks, Gordon, Gilbert, Carpenter.

FIFTEENTH DAY

Stevens Point, Wis., Dec. 2, 1915, 9 o'clock a. m.

Meeting called to order by chairman, Hon. Ben Halverson.

Clerk called the roll; all members present.

Minutes of yesterday's session read, corrected and approved.

Clerk read the following resolution: To the Chairman and Members of the County Board. Gentlemen: Whereas, the county is carrying insurance to the amount of $34,500 on buildings, contents, etc., at a cost of $1,150.00 for the last five years, and Whereas the said insurance expires on February 17, 1916, Be It Resolved, That the chair appoint two members of this county board to act with him as a committee of three with power and authority to act for the county in the matter of reinsurance of said property as they may deem for the best interests of the county. Premiums for said insurance to be paid out of the general fund.

Dated this 2nd day of December, 1915.—D. W. Sawyer, Supervisor of Belmont.

Moved by Supervisor Hamilton that the resolution be adopted. Motion carried.

Clerk read the following resolution, laid over from yesterday: To the Honorable Chairman and the County Board of Supervisors of Portage County, Wisconsin. Gentlemen:—Whereas, the Portage county poor farm is located within the limits of joint school district No. 7, town of Amherst and village of Amherst Junction, in said county, and

Whereas, the legislature of the state of Wisconsin has made provision in Chapter 36, Section 670, paragraph 18, giving the county board power to appropriate money to a school district in which a county farm may be located or any part thereof,

Therefore Be It, Resolved by the County Board of Supervisors of Portage county, Wisconsin, that a sum of money be appropriated to joint school district No. 7 of the town of Amherst and the village of Amherst Junction in said county, equal to the amount that would be paid as school taxes upon the Portage county poor farm, if such lands were privately owned, the valuation of such lands to be determined by the County Board of Equalization as provided in said Chapter 36, Section 670, paragraph 18, of the Revised Statutes of Wisconsin, 1913.—Geo. Starks, Supervisor for the Village of Amherst Junction, Portage County, Wisconsin.

Moved by Supervisor Sawyer that the resolution be laid upon the table. Ayes and nays called for. Motion carried by 18 ayes and 12 nays. Following voting aye, Supervisors Brunker, Smith, Sawyer, Tovey, Tetzloff, Timm, Stertz, Jordan, Halverson, Norton, Wanta, Lukasavitz, Park, Mansur, Playman, Jurek, Carpenter, Aldrich. Nays, Supervisors Brekke, Hamilton, Wilson, Starks, Berry, Wolf, sr., Laszewski, Frost, Gordon, Pratt, Coddington, Gilbert.

The following resolution, laid over from yesterday, was read by the clerk: Be it ordained by the Board of Supervisors of Portage county, Wisconsin, That A. E. I, Earl Newby, County Treasurer of said County, do solemnly swear the annexed report is true as to each and all the items as shown on the books of said office. Earl Newby, County Treasurer.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 1st day of November, 1915. F. H. Timm, Clerk Circuit Court.

Moved by Supervisor Teitzloff that the report be adopted. Motion carried.

The $10,000 cancelled bonds and $3,555 coupons were punched in the presence of the county board. The chairman of the committee on settlement with county officers reported that the orders had been burned in the presence of the committee.

Clerk read the following resignation. To the Honorable Chairman and members of the County Board, Gentlemen:—With the hope that I may not be thought ungrateful or unmindful of the honor conferred upon me by your honorable body on the election of myself to the membership in the committee on common schools, that you may have ample time to elect a successor during this session, I hereby most respectfully tender my resignation as a member of the above mentioned committee. Yours respectfully, George D. Whiteside. December 1, 1915.

Report of Portage County Schools from June 30, 1914.

I have the honor to submit, herewith, my fifth annual report as county superintendent of the county schools. I shall in this report endeavor to show the merits and defects of our schools and make such recommendations as in my judgment should be made. What we should consider at all times is how to give the boys and girls of this county the very best common school education, and in this way make it possible for them to live as good, respectable American citizens. The boys of today are the ones that are going to manage the matters of this county in the time that is to come, in the near future.

The county superintendent has under her supervision one hundred and fifty teachers, and school has been maintained in one hundred and twenty-seven schools. Four year high schools were maintained in the villages of Almond and Amherst. Graded schools of the first class are located in Bancroft, Junction City and Rosholz; and graded schools of the second class are at Amherst Junction, Nelsonville and Plover. This leaves a total of one hundred and nineteen one room schools that were maintained during the past school year, in this county, outside of the city of Stevens Point.

One new district, known as a consolidated district, has been formed since my last report was made, and a new school built in district No. 5, town of Grant. The consolidated district consists of districts No. 1, 2, 3 and 4, town of Buena Vista. On Nov. 15 this district voted to borrow $9,000 for a new school building to be erected next spring. District No. 1, town of Hull, have remodeled their school building so that now they have a modern school building. It has given me much satisfaction to observe how great a number of district boards have acted on suggestions made for improving their school buildings. There are very few school in the county on which no improvements were made during the summer and some have been furnished with new single, adjustable seats. Of all the poor equipment which I have seen in different schools, I believe there is nothing more harmful than the seats in which some of the children have to sit day after day.

During the year 215 visits were made and 120 evening programs and contests were attended. The teachers of the Normal school and President Sims have been very helpful when asked to speak at these gatherings. The social center movement and contest work has been well started in the county, but in some places it still needs encouragement. Last year nearly every school had one or more of these meetings or programs. The spelling contest was carried out as follows:—Each district held its own contest and the winner attended a town contest that was under the supervision of a chairman who was a teacher in each town. The winner from the town contest represented the town at the county contest held on June 5th at the Normal school in Stevens Point. All the contests were most interesting and the pupils spelled very ably, but most particularly was this true of the county contest. Here the words were pronounced by Prof. John Phelan for three hours before a winner was chosen. This winner was Agnes Finnessy of Stockton, and she represented Portage county at the state contest held at Milwaukee at the State Fair in September. There were 49 representatives from as many counties. There were held ten district fairs last year and I believe that this is one of the most successful forms of social center work for rural schools. The children and parents enjoy comparing their farm produce with that of their neighbors and good points of better farming are exchanged. Some of the rural schools have either purchased or borrowed Babcock milk testers to make their agricultural work more practical.

On June 5th the county commencement exercises were held at the Normal school where 124 boys and girls received county diplomas. With this central county commencement the graduating from the county school is strongly emphasized and the boys and girls take more pride in completing the course in the rural schools. It is the plan to continue both the county commencement exercises and the spelling contest work. Assistant State Superintendent Harper was present at these exercises and gave an interesting address.

The school population of Portage county is 9078, while the public enrollment is 4229 in rural schools, 528 in graded schools, 207 in grades below high school and 116 in high schools, making a total of 5080. The average daily attendance is 3352 in rural schools, 403 in graded schools, 176 in grades below high school and 93 in high school, making a total of 4024 pupils daily in the public schools of the county.

One day institutes were held at each of the following places: Amherst, Rosholz, Almond and Junction City. A two day institute was held in October, 1914, and this year nearly all the teachers attended the Central Teacher's association held in Stevens Point.

Last January the school board convention was attended by about 500 people and the one held this year on Nov. 19, had about 350 people present. Teachers' examinations were held in April and August in two localities in the county. Certificates were granted as follows: First grade, 8; second grade, 16; third grade, 19; refused 12.

The teachers have been very helpful in encouraging the regular attendance of pupils and the use of the perfect attendance cards has made this more possible. Large perfect attendance certificates were sent to 212 pupils. There is a decided increase in the regularity of school attendance for the past year, proving the benefit and correct incentive of the attendance certificate. They will be used again this year. The county sheriff has been very active in encouraging the compulsory attendance law.

During the summer months library books have been selected for the one hundred and twenty-seven schools in the county which consist of 1747 volumes at a cost of $878.75.

The last legislature passed a law providing for the appointment of a supervising teacher in each county. The committee on common schools appointed by Chairman Halverson and consisting of Dr. Whiteside, Henry Omernik and Frank Springer, appointed Miss Alice Gordon for the supervisory teacher of Portage county. Miss Gordon's work will be primarily with young teachers, though she will use a portion of her time in visiting those who have had experience.

After considering the expenses for the past year I find it necessary to ask for the following amount to run the office for the ensuing year:

Traveling expenses.....$300.00

Postage.....200.00

Printing.....200.00

Stationery and printing.....150.00

Office help.....300.00

Express, freight and drayage.....10.00

Telephone.....10.00

Commencement programs and other expenses.....25.00

Typewriter supplies.....25.00

Mimeograph.....50.00

Diplomas.....25.00

Perfect attendance certificates.....25.00

Total.....$1370.00

In conclusion, permit me to say that the school spirit in general is very good. Many of the school boards are anxious to get the best teachers, the best books and are willing to get the necessary material for the good of the school. I hope that in the future, as in the past, we may ever keep the thought fresh in our minds that good schools can be brought about only by the united and harmonious co-operation of the pupils, parents, teachers and county superintendent. This I sincerely hope will be done and I assure you that our schools will continue to make progress as in the past.

Thanking your honorable members of the board of supervisors for past favors and trusting that I may again have your co-operation in the interest of the common schools of Portage county, I am, Yours very truly, Frances C. Bannach, county superintendent.
